Final Bulletins

Allied Troops Quit Bir Hacheim

CAIRO (AP) — British headquarters announced tonight that "on the orders of Gen. Ritchie, the garrison of Bir Hacheim"—former anchor of the British line in Libya—"was withdrawn during the night of June 10-11." (See earlier story Page 2.)

2 Die In Air Collision

GANANOQUE, Ont. (CP) — Two R.A.F. pilots from the Norman Rogers airbase near Kingston, Ont., were killed instantly here today when their Harvard aircraft crashed in midair during training flights.

Another airman in one of the planes parachuted to safety after the crash.

Halt Prosecutions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial of eight United States chemical companies and 20 individuals on charges of conspiracy to violate the anti-trust laws by monopolizing the manufacture and sale of dyestuffs has been postponed for the duration on the representation of War Secretary Stimson that to proceed would "seriously interfere with the war production effort."

A. McCabe, Victoria, Heads Odd Fellows

Alex McCabe of Victoria was elected Grand Master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of British Columbia in annual convention at Vancouver today. Other officers elected were: J. R. Colley of Kamloops, Deputy Grand Master; J. R. Hunter of Nelson, Grand Warden; E. L. Webber of Vancouver, Grand Secretary; F. V. Whitworth, Vancouver, Grand Treasurer; and J. N. White of North Vancouver, and Charles Twenlon of Vancouver, Grand Representatives.

Boy Hit by Streetcar Critically Injured

Three-year-old Denis John Lampert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lampert, 3114 Steele Street, is unconscious in Jubilee Hospital today after being carried 72 feet down Burnside Road on the fender of a Burnside streetcar at 10 a.m.

At noon Dr. R. B. Robertson, attending the young lad, said he was suffering from a fractured skull, and severe shock and his condition was critical.

Police said the boy ran north out of Napier Lane and directly into the path of the eastbound streetcar. He was caught in the cow catcher and carried 72 feet 10 inches before motorman Daniel J. Matheson, 619 Dunedin Street, was able to stop the car.

The boy was rushed to the Jubilee Hospital by Constables Tom Banister and Brooke Douglas in the police ambulance. Inspector Walter Calwell of the police traffic division, and Constable R. Davidson also attended. Police said Napier Lane is fringed by five-foot high bushes on either side and it would be difficult for anyone traveling on Burnside to see down the road before reaching it.

Nazis Murder 34 More Czechs

LONDON (CP) — Nazi executioners in former Czechoslovakia have put to death another 34 persons, including 10 women, the Prague radio announced tonight. The total executed since the attack on the Nazi leader Reinhard Heydrich now is 340, not counting the men executed in the wiping out of the town of Lidice.

Commando Chief

OTTAWA (CP) — Lord Louis Mountbatten, leader of Great Britain's famed commandos, paid a brief visit to Ottawa today.

He was guest of the Governor-General and Princess Alice at luncheon, and later in the afternoon left by air for an undisclosed destination.

Move 300,000 Dutch

LONDON (CP) — German authorities in Holland have set up an official corporation to carry out a vast plan of moving 300,000 Dutch from the Netherlands to settlements in German-occupied western Russia, the Netherlands Indies news agency reported today.

'Limbs Grow'—Stalin

MOSCOW (AP) — Josef Stalin, exchanging felicitations with Prime Minister Churchill over the British-Russian mutual assistance treaty, expressed confidence it would further strengthen the "friendly relations between the Soviet Union and Great Britain, as also between our countries and the United States."

The Russian premier's message, a reply to Prime Minister Churchill's felicitations, was read with the Churchill message over the Moscow radio tonight.

Mr. Churchill had voiced confidence that "from now on our three great powers can go forward in co-operation on whatever may await us."

Ottawa Geologists Search for Oil

Dominion government geologists and topographers are now exploring the Peace River area of B.C. to ascertain its petroleum possibilities, it was learned at the Parliament Buildings today.

In the group are Dr. H. H. Beech and Dr. Spivak, federal government geologists, and J. W. Spence and W. B. Dingle, topographers. They are working out of Dawson Creek, and will employ B.C., Alberta and Saskatchewan university men to work with them in their explorations. They will proceed by pack train in several directions west from Dawson Creek, says the Peace River Broadcast News, and surveys will be conducted south and north of the Peace River, and also in the vicinity of Hudson Hope.

Owing to the shortage of pack horses, says the News, due to the increased demands for such animals being used by various parties on the Alaska Highway survey, it was necessary to ship in two carloads of horses from Edmonton to take care of Dr. Beech's requirements.

Sweeping Military Changes Here

Canada's Head Soldier to Command All Defence Forces On This Coast

Rapid expansion of military forces on this coast and growing importance of the Pacific northwest as one of the key centres to Allied geo-strategy is acknowledged in the announcement of Ottawa today of the appointment of Lt. Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of general staff of the Canadian army, to temporary command of the Pacific area.

Maj. Gen. R. O. Alexander, at present G.O.C.-in-Chief, Pacific Command, a post he has held since late in 1940, is appointed Inspector-General of the army for central Canada, effective July 1.

Today also came unofficial word of the retirement of Brig. L. Miller, D.O.C. M.D. 11, and of the appointment of Lt. Col. J. R. Kingham, recently returned from England, where he commanded the 1st Canadian Scottish, as military adviser to the R.C.A.F. on this coast.

Command Embraces Vital Wide Area

The area which Lt. Gen. Stuart now commands includes British Columbia, Alberta and the Yukon; its juxtaposition to Alaska, through which a Japanese invasion of this continent might come and which has been under attack from the air, increase enormously its strategic military importance.

The southern extremity of Lt. Gen. Stuart's command, lower Vancouver Island, takes on further geographical importance in its relation to Midway Island and the Hawaiian group, the ultimate object of the heavy Japanese attack which was beaten off by U.S. forces this week.

Southern Vancouver Island can be roughly described as the apex of a triangle formed by itself and the two pincers of the recent Japanese attacks on Midway and Dutch Harbor.

While rumors have been current here that Pacific Command headquarters would be removed to the mainland, the Ottawa announcement states that Lt. Gen. Stuart will operate at "Victoria. There is no confirmation of other reports that this would be made a two-corps command.

Following is the text of the brief announcement made today

LT. GEN. K. STUART, D.S.O., M.C.

MAJ. GEN. R. O. ALEXANDER, D.S.O.

BRIG. L. MILLER, D.S.O.

by National Defence Headquarters:

"The Minister of National Defence announced the retirement of Maj. Gen. T. V. Anderson, D.S.O., inspector-general, central Canada, after completion of 42 years' service.

"The minister further announced the appointment effective July 1, 1942, of Maj. Gen. R. O. Alexander, D.S.O., G.O.C.-in-C., Pacific command, as inspector-general, central Canada, vice Gen. Anderson.

"Pending the appointment of a successor to Gen. Alexander, Lt. Gen. K. Stuart, D.S.O., M.C., chief of the general staff, will take over temporary command of the Pacific area in order to deal with organization plans arising out of expansion of army forces in that command."

In his new post as inspector general for the army in central Canada, Maj. Gen. Alexander will succeed Maj. Gen. T. V. Anderson.

No Successor Named To Brig. L. Miller

No successor has as yet been named to Brig. Miller, whose retirement is expected on account of age.

The changes announced at Ottawa are in line with the established army policy of promotion to key positions of younger men. Maj. Gen. Anderson is 61, Maj. Gen. Alexander 54, and Lt. Gen. Stuart 51.

Lt. Gen. Stuart in his new post will be head of the unified navy, army and air force commands on the Pacific coast, a post now held by Maj. Gen. Alexander. The unified command covers matters of strategy only, tactics being left in charge of the individual officers commanding. These are Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, A.O.C. Western Air Command, formerly head of the R.C.A.F. in England, and Commodore W. J. R. Beach in command of the navy here.

Lt. Gen. Stuart was formerly commandant of R.M.C. and later director-general of engineer services at national defence headquarters. He is a graduate of R.M.C. and has been in the permanent forces ever since.

He joined the army as an engineer officer in 1911 and served in France and Belgium during the first Great War, receiving the Military Cross and the Distinguished Service Order.

Following the war he graduated from the staff college at Camberley and held the post of district engineer officer, at Calgary, Quebec and Victoria. He served as general staff officer class 1 and professor of tactics at Royal Military College before becoming commandant.

He became chief of staff last year when Lt. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar went overseas.

A soldier all his life, Maj. Gen. Alexander, who was born in Ceylon, entered the service in 1908 being commissioned in the Royal Canadian Regiment as a subaltern and served throughout the first Great War, winning the D.S.O., and finishing it in command of the 24th Battalion which is perpetuated in this war by the Victoria Rifles.

He continued in the service and after the Armistice moved steadily forward through a succession of important staff appointments and a term as lecturer at the Royal Military College to his present rank of major general.

Brig. Miller, a veteran with a fine record in the first Great War, served in this district in the present war as first commander of the Officers' Training Centre at Gordon Head, subsequently taking staff appointments at Work Point with M.D. This summer he was away on extended sick leave returning two months ago to take up his appointment as D.O.C. M.D. 11.

Mutual Aid For 20 Years

LONDON (CP) — Pledging themselves to rebuild Europe on the terms of the Churchill-Roosevelt Atlantic Charter, Britain and Russia have signed a 20-year mutual assistance treaty "against Hitlerite Germany," Foreign Secretary Eden announced today.

The pact was signed May 26 by Mr. Eden and Russia's foreign commissar, Vyacheslav Molotov, at the British Foreign Office, five days after the Russian statesman had arrived in London. He later went to Washington. Molotov now has returned to Moscow.

The United States was kept fully informed of the London Anglo-Russian treaty.

The announcement was the first official disclosure that Molotov had been in Britain and the United States.

Maitsky Sees Commons Receive Information

The Foreign Secretary made his announcement in the House of Commons as Soviet ambassador Ivan Maitsky smiled broadly in the gallery.

Mr. Eden said Britain and Russia had reached a "full understanding" with regard to the "urgent task of creating a second front in Europe in 1942."

It was announced Molotov had "most useful and satisfactory talks with the President in Washington."

In negotiating an accord Russia's first wish was for a treaty guaranteeing her western frontiers, including the Baltic states (Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia), but it was understood this was abandoned in favor of the present, broader commitments.

Russia absorbed the Baltic states in 1940, but all now are in German possession.

To Base Peace On United Action

The treaty provides "for common action to preserve peace and resist aggression" after the present war. It pledges the two nations "not to enter into any negotiations" with Hitler's government or any German government that fails to renounce aggression.

Mr. Eden said Molotov arrived in London May 21, accompanied by M. Sobolev of the people's commissariat for foreign affairs.

Molotov and Mr. Eden signed the treaty with Prime Minister Churchill's gold-mounted fountain pen.

In it Britain and Russia agree to render one another "all possible economic assistance after the war" and to avoid participation in any alliance directed against the other contracting party.

No Interference With Other Nations

In the reconstruction of Europe the two nations will be guided by the principles of "not seeking territorial aggrandisement for themselves" and "not interfering in the internal affairs of other states," Mr. Eden said.

The two countries, Mr. Eden said, have agreed they will "work for the organization of security and economic prosperity" in Europe, taking into account the interests of the United Nations.

Willing to Extend Pact To Other Countries

Britain and Russia are willing "to unite with other like-minded states in adopting proposals for common action to preserve peace and resist aggression," the Foreign Minister declared, forecasting some sort of postwar organization similar to the League of Nations.

The treaty, he said, will remain in force until Russia and Britain recognize it as "superseded by adoption of proposals for a long-term system of international security," but in default of the adoption of such proposals "it shall remain in force for a period of 20 years and thereafter until terminated by either of the contracting parties."

He said the "whole of the terms of the agreement" are being published in a white paper and "there are no secret engagements or commitments of any kind whatsoever."

2nd Front in 1942 Goal of U.S., Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Roosevelt and Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov, the White House announced today, reached a "full understanding" in conversations in Washington "with regard to the urgent tasks of creating a second front in Europe in 1942."

The White House, in a formal statement disclosing Molotov had visited the United States, gave no additional details on a second front. Nor did the statement say whether the agreement was to open such a front or not to do so.

Will Speed Supplies To Russian Fronts

The American President and the Russian Commissar, the White House said, also attained a "unity" of views on two other vital questions pertaining to their war efforts:

"Measures for increasing and speeding up the supplies of planes, tanks and other kinds of war materials" from the United States to Russia, and the "fundamental problems of co-operation of the Soviet Union and the United States in safeguarding peace and security to the freedom-loving peoples after the war."

"Both sides state with satisfaction," the statement declared, "the unity of their views on all these questions."

Molotov, 52-year-old right-hand man of Premier Josef Stalin, arrived in Washington May 29 and left June 4.

Discussions Covered Economic Questions

The statement released today was approved by both Molotov and Mr. Roosevelt and withheld until the former had returned home. The discussions entered into while the foreign commissar was a secret guest at the White House apparently ranged over the whole field of military and economic problems of mutual concern to the two nations.

Mr. Roosevelt, at their conclusion, asked Molotov to inform Premier Stalin that the Chief Executive "feels these conversations have been most useful in establishing a basis for fruitful and closer relationship between the two governments in the pursuit of the common objectives of the United Nations."

Delay Jap Evacuees

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Japanese have refused to promise safe conduct for the Inter-Gripsholm until June 16, the state department said this afternoon, and therefore its trip to Africa with several hundred Japanese on their way home from the United States has been postponed.

Also contributing to the postponement is the fact that the U.S. government has failed to receive from the Japanese government the list of American nationals to be exchanged out of Japanese-occupied China, and

Jap Gets 6 Months

VANCOUVER (CP) — Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson today imposed a sentence of six months at hard labor on Shinzojyo Hamazasi, 49-year-old Japanese fisherman housed at Hastings Park evacuation centre, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of obstructing a police officer.

Hamazasi was charged following a struggle June 9 with two Royal Canadian Mounted Police constables in which Constable Julian Nazimek suffered an eye injury.

Germans Open New Drive From Kharkov

Nazis Throw 150,000 Men Into Fight for Sebastopol

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP) — Germany's armies and air force, increasing their pressure along the entire front, were attacking today at three major points; opening a new push from Kharkov in the Ukraine, hurling whole divisions against besieged Sebastopol, and battering at Murmansk from the air.

Dispatches from the battlefront suggested the Germans at-last were getting their summer campaign under way, rolling into larger-scale action after being held and thrust back for almost six months.

Tass reported from Sebastopol the Germans had attacked repeatedly during the last 24 hours, hurling powerful forces into the fight, but said that "despite the intensity and stubbornness of the attacks the enemy failed to break the resistance of the Sebastopol defenders. The troops firmly hold their ground."

49 German Planes Brought Down

Aerial activity on both sides was described as intense. Tass said Red air force fliers defending the city shot down 29 German planes and damaged 16 others in the past few days, while anti-aircraft guns downed 20 more German aircraft.

(In London today a military commentator reported more than 30 German divisions, perhaps 150,000 men, were striking at Sebastopol in the heaviest attack yet made on that Soviet Black Sea port. He said the Germans were making a particular effort to clear the southern flank of the defenses.)

The Soviet Information Bureau announced Field Marshal Fedor von Bock's army had taken the initiative in the shell-torn region of Kharkov. Nazi-held steel centre in the Donets Basin 400 miles south of Moscow.

Beyond saying "a battle took place," the communique reported no details.

Red army fliers were reported to have sunk an Axis patrol boat, destroyed two railway trains and demolished or damaged several tanks and armored cars, 300 motor vehicles, 30 munitions carts and 18 guns Tuesday.

Germans Say Reds Counter-attacking

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP) — The German high command claimed today "desperate" Russian counter-attacks in the battle around Sebastopol were unsuccessful and German planes had sunk a 3,000-ton merchant ship in the besieged Crimean port.

The high command added the Russians had lost "several places" in fighting on the northern sector of the long front.

"On the Volkhovo front (below Leningrad) strong enemy attacks were repulsed and heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy," the communique said.

"Coastal artillery of the army successfully shelled enemy vessels in the Bight of Kronstadt (Russian naval base near Leningrad). A Soviet submarine leaving Leningrad and an escorting vessel were set afire."

Formations of bombers also attacked Russian positions, and fortifications at Sebastopol, it was stated, and went in waves against Red army field and battery positions in the southern sector of the eastern front.

(The latter presumably refers to the Kharkov sector.)

U.S. Freighter Sunk

WASHINGTON (CP) — A medium-sized United States merchant vessel was sunk by shell fire at an east coast port.

NAZI GENERAL IN CANADA—From the sands of the desert to a Canadian prison camp comes General von Ravenstein, Nazi panzer division commander, captured last March in Libya fighting. He was one of thousands of war prisoners whose arrival in Canada is announced by Ottawa. With him is another German general, Major-General Arthur Schmidt, also captured in Libya.

Want Soldiers As Orchard Workers

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—The B.C. Fruit Growers' Association has been unsuccessful in efforts to obtain male Japanese now in road camps as casual orchard workers in the Okanagan Valley this summer, and is now seeking the release of army trainees as a means of meeting the labor shortage.

A. G. Desbrisay, B.C.F.G.A. president, said here. In a review of efforts made to ease the labor situation, Mr. Desbrisay said enlisted men had been released for seeding operations throughout Canada during the past spring and Defence Minister Ralston was now being asked to grant similar leaves for the Okanagan fruit season. Application of certain districts for Japanese labor had been turned down by Labor Minister Mitchell. At the same time the B.C.F.G.A. is investigating other sources of labor, including proposals by the Vancouver Local Council of

Bir Hacheim Bitterly Contested

Canadian Press

Hitler's high command asserted today Axis troops had captured Bir Hacheim, southern anchor of the 50-mile British line in North Africa.

"The fort of Bir Hacheim, southern pillar of the British defensive system, was this morning taken by storm after several days of bitter resistance by strong enemy units encircled there," the Nazi communique said.

The Free French commander of the garrison had previously rejected six Axis demands for surrender.

British general headquarters said all day Wednesday British armored and motorized forces, supported by planes, aided the Free French in repulsing Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's furious tank assaults on Bir Hacheim.

London military circles, conceding the possibility Bir Hacheim had at last fallen, said the immediate effect would be to relieve Marshal Rommel's supply difficulties around the British left flank.

These quarters said the position was not regarded as vital to the British campaign, the main goal of which is to destroy the Axis armored forces.

Jap Fliers Ran Away

Epic of Midway Battle Told by Men Who Won It

By CLARK LEE

HONOLULU (AP)—Part of the epic story of the Battle of Midway was told today by American army pilots who with navy and marine fliers smashed the Japanese fleet and saved the Hawaiian Islands from invasion.

This part of the story is that of the army's land-based aircraft, and for them the battle started the afternoon of June 3 when they got in the first punch.

Two Japanese fleets were approaching Midway, one consisting principally of transports from the west and the other of the battle fleet from another direction.

Gen. Willis Hale, commander of the Hawaiian bombardment command, told how his men got in the first decisive blow.

Army bombers made their first contact with the enemy far to the west of Midway the afternoon of June 3. Bombs, dropped in a medium-altitude attack, hit and damaged one cruiser or battleship which was left in flames, as were also one transport and one destroyer.

'Got There Fastest With Mostest Men'

The following morning, army planes took off anticipating that Japanese planes from the second enemy fleet—much closer than the force bombed the previous afternoon—would hit the island. Marine fliers also hopped off and were in the air when the Japanese arrived.

SAW MIDWAY FIGHT—Here's the naval aviator who had a "fish-eye view" of the blasting of three aircraft carriers in the recent Midway naval battle. He's Ensign G. H. Gay who clung to his boat-bag in the water for 24 hours after his bombing plane was shot down while launching a torpedo at one of the three Japanese carriers which he saw razed by U.S. warships. Slightly wounded, Gay was rescued and returned to Honolulu.

Twenty minutes later, marine dive-bombers swarmed down on Japanese ships, adding further destruction (navy dive-bombers and torpedo planes also attacked about the same time, but details have not been released.)

At 8:30 a.m. army heavy bombers attacked the Japanese battle fleet from a high altitude, hitting one carrier (possibly the army bombers also damaged enemy vessels of other classes, inasmuch as at the time of writing all the reports still were not received.)

(Japan's leading civilian naval expert, Masanori Ito, gave the first authoritative suggestion from Tokyo Thursday that two Japanese aircraft carriers had been sunk, as claimed by the United States, instead of one sunk and one heavily damaged. Ito declared that "in view of the great success" of Japan's far-flung invasion forces "we should not be disappointed at the loss of two aircraft carriers.")

Meanwhile, Japanese planes from carriers were attacking Midway.

Their first attack, made at a high level with heavy demolition bombs, lasted 38 minutes and was directed against both Sand Island and the nearby Eastern Island, which together comprise Midway.

Japanese dive bombers then slipped out of the sun and attacked Midway's ground installations while pursuit planes followed with strafing attacks. At least 180 enemy planes participated in the attacks.

Marine fighters engaged the enemy planes.

The Japanese did not bomb runways, apparently expecting to occupy the islands and use them for an air base.

Shortly after the Japanese had withdrawn, the American planes returned to refuel and take on more bombs.

Enemy Had Enough, Failed to Return

"But the enemy didn't come back," said Gen. Hale. "They were too busy protecting themselves. From then on the Japanese were withdrawing and it was a series of mopping up operations."

The army heavy bombers safely completed refueling and rearming and took off again. They located the Japanese battle force once more in the afternoon and damaged one heavy cruiser and possibly another.

Col. Walter Sweeney of San Francisco led the squadron of flying fortresses in attacks both June 3 and 4. Col. Sweeney told of the attacks from close up.

"Everyone of our squadrons got into the Midway battle before it ended and my squadron was lucky enough to have been in three attacks."

Crewmen said the Japanese fighters never pressed home attacks on the bombers, not a single one of which was shot down, whereas three and possibly four enemy zero fighters were shot down.

Crew members said the Zero pilots feared the firepower of the fortresses, and, except for isolated cases, seldom came close. The Zeros usually made one pass from below, firing a few shots and rolling over on their backs, firing a few more rounds at the bombers and then breaking off action.

Col. Sweeney gave this account: "We first made contact with the enemy far out in the Pacific on the afternoon of June 3. There were over 20 Japanese ships lined in columns, with big ships in the centre. We circled to the westward and came in with the sun at our backs."

"When the Japs sighted us they immediately deployed, each ship turning individually, trying frantically to avoid attack."

"We were at a medium altitude because of clouds, and anti-aircraft was soon splitting at us. It was far more accurate than we expected and many of our planes were bounced around a bit, but none was seriously damaged."

"We picked out as our targets the biggest ships in sight, and laid our bombs in a pattern. Our bombardiers and rear gunners saw direct hits on one cruiser, one transport and possibly a second cruiser. One of our planes also reported hitting a battleship."

"Frankly, we didn't stay around too long to check up. Anti-aircraft fire was making things hot, and we left in a hurry."

"We knew no fighters were in the air since there had been no carriers among the Jap ships, so there was nothing to worry about en route home."

"We landed at our base and crews started immediately to get the ships in shape for the following morning."

Target Changed To Bigger Fleet

"We hopped off the next morning at dawn under orders to attack the same enemy force. After a short while new orders came over the radio, and we were told to attack an even larger Japanese battle fleet which already was close to Midway."

"There was a big battle line, with destroyers outside, then cruisers, battleships and away back the carriers which we picked for our target."

"We picked the biggest carrier and headed for it."

"The minute our bomb-bays opened, the ack-ack started coming up. It was fine shooting, and the Japs must have gone gangbusters because the first shots were right at our altitude."

"The Jap ships started their frantic escape manoeuvres, but our pattern of bombs blanketed a carrier. We got at least one definite hit on the port bow of the carrier and saw flame and smoke of the explosion."

"A few zeros came up at us, but we lost them quickly due to our speed and their faint-heartedness."

"We streaked for our base and found that Midway had been bombed while we were out there. We expected the Japs would come back, so we loaded as rapidly as possible and got back into the air and sped back toward the battle line."

"At four p.m. we found the enemy. We saw one carrier and one capital ship burning. They were lying dead, not making headway, and obviously they were badly damaged."

"No undamaged carriers were visible, so we picked out the biggest ship we could see—a heavy cruiser. One bomb struck it directly amidships and left it smoking and badly damaged."

Chinese Still Use Road to India

CHUNGKING (AP)—The land transport link between Allied forces in India and China is intact despite the Japanese penetration of Burma, a Chinese spokesman said today.

"The route remains passable," he said. "There has been no contact between Japanese and Chinese troops north of Myitkyina (Burmesse railroad 185 miles south of the Sikkim province border.)"

The spokesman declined to disclose location of the trail, long augmented by aerial transport, but reported "the Japanese say we are using an old silk route through Sikkim."

At the same time he declared 8,000 Japanese who pushed 25 miles southward along the Yellow River from Paotow, in Suiyuan province, had been hurled back 12 miles.

The Japanese operations were described as "the same old story" of attempts to gain military security.

"They are afraid the Chinese might threaten their security around Paotow," he said, "and want to consolidate their grip by dispersing any forces liable to menace them."

Turning from this theatre near the Mongolian border to the adjacent Kiangsi province, he said the railway centre of Chuhsien, in western Chekiang province, "is still in our hands."

At the same time it was acknowledged Japanese based in the adjacent Kiangsi province had driven slightly eastward to narrow the gap of some 175 miles of the railway still held by the Chinese.

CLAIM 2,000,000 KILLED

LONDON (CP)—Japanese losses in China to the end of 1941 exceeded 2,000,000 killed and wounded, Dr. George Yeh, newly appointed director of the Chinese Ministry of Information in London, declared today.

Yeh said he was unable to announce Chinese casualties, but added grimly: "I would be lying if I were to say we have suffered smaller losses than our enemy."

He said the Chinese were immobilizing more than 1,000,000 Japanese troops, including the forces in both China and Manchuria.

China, Yeh declared, has more than 300 divisions under arms, with 5,000,000 soldiers in the field and 10,000,000 more men behind the lines.

FOR A PENNY DAY

There are so many appeals just now for war relief funds, I thought it would be a good idea if some veteran's unit would stage a Penny Day, that is, laying pennies in a line. With the crowds that gather in the city on Saturdays, it should go over big. Anybody who has not the penny change, can down the nickel, dime or "what have you." Think it over.

RED CROSS THANKS

On behalf of the executive committee of the Victoria and District Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society I wish to express its deep appreciation and thanks to the citizens of this city and adjacent districts for their most generous support to our "National Campaign." The Canadian Red Cross belongs to the people of Canada. Victoria and district can be justly proud of its contribution to this national responsibility.

Red Cross owes a debt of gratitude to the campaign committee and its company of earnest workers. The notable achievement of exceeding the local quota set by the Provincial Committee, was due to three main factors: the greatness of the cause, the diligence of our collectors and the patriotism of our citizens.

I earnestly request your continued interest, sympathy and support in all Red Cross activities.

W. M. PETERSON, President.

FOR MEN AT SEA

May I appeal to the public on behalf of the Allied Post. This organization is entirely devoted to bringing some comforts and interest into the lives of our Allied Seamen and, since its inauguration last October, has sent over 4,700 parcels to these men. Our next shipment is due at the end of this month and this time we have decided to send just to the "little ships"—small freighters and the like, who with their precious cargoes daily face the perils of war and yet who perhaps figure less in the public eye than their larger sisters.

I want to ask all Canadians, so busy packing parcels for their husbands, sons and sweethearts, to stop and give a thought to these others. We are still free to send gifts and write letters to our men, but for the most of our Allies there is nothing now but silence—so when you pack put something aside, a sweater, cigarettes, chocolate, anything you know would be appreciated. Send them to the Allied Post, Room 209, 1396 St. Catherine Street, W., Montreal, and feel that your gift is going to someone who perhaps has never received anything since his country was invaded.

CONSCRIPTION BY TAXES

Wealth is now being conscripted by income taxes and excess profits taxes, according to the defenders of business and profits as usual in wartime. A recent issue of the Financial Post "proves" this by showing that taxes paid by industry have increased by 263 per cent.

But in the same issue of the Financial Post there is an analysis of the experience of 140 Canadian companies in the years 1939, 1940 and 1941. This analysis shows that the net profits, after all payment of taxes, were higher in 1941 than in 1939, and the highest in the history of Canadian industry.

The same analysis also shows that the taxes paid by the companies were increased from $50,000,000 in 1939 to $187,000,000 in 1941. But since the net profits were paid, are higher than they were in 1939, how can it be claimed that they paid the taxes or that any of their wealth was conscripted by taxes?

The fact is that the companies referred to did not pay the increased tax. The people of Canada who bought their products paid it. The companies themselves paid nothing at all. They had more left for themselves in 1941 after paying taxes than they had in 1939. Anyone who claims that taxes which are passed on to the public is conscription of wealth is either very stupid himself or thinks everybody else is.

WHY NOT GAS FOR A LITTLE FISHING?

In reading an article about how Mr. Cotterell is going to clamp down on those persons fortunate enough to have an extra unit coupon book for gasoline and who are using said books for pleasure riding, the thought struck me that much unfairness is about to be done.

The people engaged in vital war work are quite rightly, I think, given some preference over those who are not contributing effort to Canada's war effort. Yet these people who do contribute effort are to be denied all pleasure through the use of their cars. A person, say one who has retired with sufficient means to live on, is given a book with 60 units (equal to 300 gallons at the present unit value). This same person may squander his entire 60 units upon pleasure driving with impunity.

I personally am fortunate enough to possess an extra unit rating. I work in a local shipyard for six days each week, not entirely with pleasure, but willingly in the circumstances that many are less fortunately placed than myself. But I would like a little pleasure on that one day in seven off, say a little fishing trip. But, according to the news dispatch, I am liable to the punishment of losing my extra ratings if I do so.

It does not seem fair to me that those who work hard six days out of seven dare take no pleasure trips, while those who do nothing can have all the pleasure they wish up to their 60 units. I should like to hear what others have to say about this.

Jap Submarine Believed Sunk Off Australia

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—Allied airmen listed a Japanese submarine and a number of planes on the ground today as fresh victims of their southwest Pacific operations, but Australians were warned that another attack was probable.

Army Minister Francis Forde expressed belief in Melbourne that "we must be even stronger" defensively.

"No one knowing Japan's naval and military strength will be fooled into believing she will accept the Coral Sea and Midway reverses without hitting back," he said.

WIDER OPERATIONS

In his declaration Mr. Forde said in part:

"We Australians must not get in the habit of leaning too heavily on our gallant American ally. We must prepare ourselves to play a much bigger part in the future."

"We have reason to be deeply indebted to the American democracy for the wholehearted way in which she has supplied us with troops and modern equipment."

"The best way to demonstrate our gratitude is to improve the efficiency of our own fighting services so we shall be able to co-operate with the Americans to the fullest extent in the aggressive spirit and action that must be shown against the enemy before the war is won in the southwest Pacific area."

9TH JAP SUBMARINE

A communique announced a reconnaissance unit "seriously damaged and probably sank an enemy submarine off the coast." Eight others are known to have been destroyed in Australian waters recently.

Allied bombers fell again Wednesday on the airfield of Japanese-occupied Rabaul, New Britain.

"A direct hit on a group of three bombers was observed, the communique said. A string of bombs burst in the main building area among a large number of enemy planes. Eight (Japanese) fighters failed to intercept."

Germ Warfare by Japs

NEW YORK (AP)—Japan has waged "germ warfare" against China for the last six months, Robert Barnett, United China Relief representative, says.

Barnett, who has just returned from China, said he had "documentary proof" that bubonic germs had been spread by the Japanese "frequently in the last six months," particularly in Hunan and Chekiang provinces.

Though some deaths resulted, Barnett said, there were no widespread epidemics.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Peppless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did—even look healthy and strong, yet you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dizzy, tired and peevish.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then, with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today.

Radio Changes Tone Aleutian Claims Of Japs Fall Flat In Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—The German radio, for some unexplained reason of its own, today broadcast Stockholm reports tending strongly to minimize Japan's unsubstantiated hints of a landing in the Aleutian Islands, and claims of victory in the Battle of Midway.

Ordinarily the Berlin radio is inclined to magnify Japanese claims, but there has been a note of caution in its reports on the sea and air fight off Midway.

The dispatch from Stockholm said Swedish correspondents reported from London that "the Americans did not regard developments in the present stage of fighting (in the Pacific) as very serious."

"This attitude," the dispatches were quoted as saying, "arose from a conviction that after the naval battle in the Coral Sea and heavy losses in the attacks on Midway Island, the Japanese had lost so much of their combined military fighting power that they could not attempt a successful invasion."

The Swedish correspondents were quoted as reporting there was no confirmation in London or from the United States of the implication in the Japanese communique Wednesday that a landing had been made in the Aleutians.

The Berlin broadcast said it was noted, too, that the Japanese did not mention Dutch Harbor in their reports of such an operation.

It said the Swedish correspondents reported that "Dutch Harbor undoubtedly was of great importance for a line of communication between the United States and the Soviet Union." It was also possible that Dutch Harbor played a certain role in air attacks on Japan in the past, and would do so also in the future.

Naval Battle Distortions

Jap Admiral Prattles of Sea Mastery

Japan's version of the battle of Midway and operations in the Aleutians, heavily discounted in advance by eyewitness reports and United States navy communiqués, was ballooned to new proportions today in interpretations carrier in propaganda broadcasts.

An extreme example follows: TOYKO (From Japanese Broadcasts, AP)—Vice-Admiral Ichiro Sato, a member of the naval general staff, asserted today that "the Japanese navy has made a decisive advance toward absolute mastery of the sea" by inflicting "smashing blows" on United States naval forces in the Aleutian and Midway naval battles.

Sato made his declaration in the course of a press interview published by Domei.

(Imperial headquarters claimed Wednesday two United States aircraft carriers and a transport were sunk while the Japanese lost one aircraft carrier, suffered severe damage to another and damage to a cruiser.

(American communiques have announced the loss of a destroyer and one aircraft carrier damaged against Japanese losses of two, and possibly three, Japanese aircraft carriers sunk, a destroyer

Liquor Restrictions Urged by Assembly

MONTREAL (CP)—The 68th general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada adjourned at Knox Crescent Church here Wednesday night by referring several matters to stated boards and committees for consideration, to be reported on at the 1943 assembly in Hamilton, Ont.

When Rev. J. L. W. McLean of Victoria, B.C., criticized the present convener of the chaplaincy committee, Rev. Dr. S. C. Parker, Toronto, it was agreed to add Rev. A. M. Hill, convener of the board of missions, and Rev. Dr. J. M. McGilivray, Sarnia, to the committee.

The assembly paid tribute to two veteran synodical missionaries whose resignations had been received, Rev. H. R. Horne, missionary for Saskatchewan and Alberta, and Rev. W. M. Mackay, missionary for northern Ontario and Manitoba.

LESS LIQUOR

The assembly adopted without discussion recommendations concerning the production and use of intoxicating beverages. The recommendations include:

"That the quantities of alcoholic beverages be severely reduced by the drastic limitation of all materials used by distillers, brewers and wine makers . . .

"That there be severe limitation of the quantities of liquor released from bond by the government . . .

"That there be substantial reduction of the alcoholic content of all beverages.

"That there be an imposition of increased taxation upon all intoxicating beverages made and sold in Canada."

Victoria Soldier 'Guerrilla' Leader

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP)—Trapped behind enemy lines in the spring's biggest battle manoeuvres, nine men of the 4th Princess Louise Dragoon Guards carried on guerrilla warfare for three days, captured prisoners wholesale, and finally slipped back to rejoin the main Canadian force.

They lived on iron rations and what food they could capture, and only withdrew when the carriers started to run low on gasoline.

The section was led by Sgt. Tom Palfrey of Victoria and Sgt. David Tavis of Yarmouth, N.S.

Tr. Albert (Trapper) Johnson of Redcliff, Alta., nicknamed after the famous "mad trapper" of the Northwest, and Cpl. Bert Lane of Edmonton were among the men.

sunk and from 11 to 14 other vessels, including three battleships, damaged.

DEFENDING SHORES

Domei's account follows in part:

" . . . He said that as a result of its defeat the United States must abandon its plan to aid Australia aggressively and must devote itself to the simple defending of its own shores.

"He said Australia has been 'orphaned' while the Panama Canal has become exposed to attack.

"He declared that with the greater part of its aircraft carriers lost, the United States can engage in guerrilla tactics only by means of submarines operating against Axis commercial routes.

"He added: 'However, even such guerrilla tactics have become more difficult because of the loss of naval bases.'"

"He concluded that Japan can proceed toward the attainment of complete supremacy in seapower 'with confidence' as a result of the naval victories in the Aleutian and Midway battles."

HONGKONG WIRE REMAINS SECRET

LONDON (CP)—Dominions Secretary Clement Attlee told the House of Commons today that the British government feels it would be contrary to the public interest to publish at the present time the British telegram which invited the Canadian government to send reinforcements to Hongkong.

He was replying to Richard Stokes, Labor member for Ipswich, who called attention to the Duff Hongkong report and asked why permission to reproduce the British telegram had been refused by the British government.

Mr. Stokes asked whether the government felt Canada's chief justice was likely to request permission to publish the document if it were not in the public interest. He suggested the telegram was suppressed because it was not in the government's interest.

Mr. Attlee said he had already given the reason why the telegram was not permitted to be published.

Nazi Agent Grobba Escapes From Yemen

CAIRO (AP)—Germany's "Lawrence of Arabia," Dr. Fritz Grobba, is reliably reported to have escaped from Yemen, in Arabia, where he had been tracked down after a hectic year in which he tried to stir up Arab tribesmen in Syria and Iran against the British.

Grobba, who formerly was German minister in Saudi Arabia, is known as the "gold purse agitator" because of his lavish distribution of gold in an effort to win over the tribesmen to Germany's side. He has been known under the aliases Hermann Graub and Arthur Borg.

No Beer Statement

OTTAWA (CP)—Rev. T. C. Douglas, C.C.F., Weyburn, told the House of Commons Wednesday he had made no reference "either to Libya or to the sending of beer to that battlefield"—in a speech in the House earlier this week.

He spoke on a question of privilege based on a newspaper editorial (Montreal Gazette) which referred to him as protesting against shipment of beer to the troops in Libya.

Mr. Douglas said it was Finance Minister Ilsley who, in reply to his own remarks, referred to Libya.

Japanese Canadians Get Work in College

POLICE QUESTION

TORONTO (CP)—The board of control has decided to turn the question of west coast Japanese settled in Toronto over to the R.C.M.P. and the Toronto District Trades and Labor Council for reports.

Mayor Fred J. Conboy said Toronto would be "faced with a serious situation if 300 or more Japanese girls came to Toronto," because "there might be no work for them at the end of the war."

Farmers Want Japs Expelled From Canada

NAKUSP, B.C. (CP)—Hon. K.C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, addressing the West Kootenay Boundary Central Farmers' Institute convention here Wednesday, declared it was urgent farmers present a consolidated front. He recommended they "take a leaf out of the trade unions' book."

Dealing with farm labor shortage in B.C., Dr. MacDonald told how he had contacted federal authorities as to the possibility of having conscientious objectors with knowledge of agriculture sent to the farm areas in B.C.

He declared himself definitely opposed to a highway commission.

The Institute recommended resolutions to farmers' organizations that the farmers form themselves into one organization to insure strength in postwar reconstruction and to enable them to insist on a standard of living on the same basis of capital and industrial workers.

It was also recommended to the government that at the close of the war the Japanese race be expelled from Canada.

Position Changes, Says Premier King

Home Defence Needs Widen As M.P.'s Debate Conscription

OTTAWA (CP)—Political observers today saw conscription for service overseas as only a remote possibility, with the necessity for home defence taking an increasingly important place in the government's considerations.

This was the conclusion drawn following the 2 1/2-hour speech with which Prime Minister Mackenzie King Wednesday launched the conscription debate in the House of Commons.

Mr. King said overseas conscription was not a present necessity and might never be necessary—whereas the growing threats to Canada's Atlantic and Pacific coasts required constant readiness to meet and repel the enemy at home.

He moved second reading of bill 80—his measure to amend the National Resources Mobilization Act by repealing section three.

Mr. King told the crowded House the government desired to have the power from Parliament to act quickly if it became necessary to enforce unlimited conscription.

He said the government had that power now from the War Measures Act of 1914, but he wanted it from the present Parliament, although he had no expectation of using it in the near future.

HANSON'S VIEWS

Conservative House Leader Hanson followed the Prime Minister and declared Mr. King's speech "left me cold."

He said it would "send a chill of disillusionment down the spine of every loyal Canadian" who, after the plebiscite vote had expected the Prime Minister would "practice total war in deed and in truth."

Mr. Hanson said he would insist that the bill be amended to incorporate mandatory provisions for immediate enforcement of conscription of manpower, wealth and resources.

NO FUTURE DEBATE

The Conservative leader said the prime minister's outline of policy indicated that if conscription were to be imposed, the government would not return to parliament for any new debate on the principle.

"That, I submit, is skillful political strategy," he said, "just such strategy as we would expect from the right honorable gentleman who, above everything else, desires to preserve his political position."

"Such a position is based upon the policy of political expediency which has been characteristic of government policy in respect to the principle of complete national selective service ever since the war was declared."

"It is the same old policy of appeasement—a game which the prime minister has played to the limit with the avowed purpose of maintaining national unity but which, correctly interpreted in practice, means unity of the Liberal Party and nothing else."

EARLY WAR PERIOD

At another stage Mr. Hanson claimed the National Resources Mobilization Act never would have been initiated but for representations made to the Prime Minister by himself and his colleague, Hon. Grote Sirling, Con., Yale.

Mr. King interrupted and denied this.

As to a widening of the new bill, Mr. Hanson said:

"I appeal to the government to incorporate in this bill, in the committee stage, mandatory provisions for the immediate enforcement of the principles of compulsory selective service, without geographical or other limitation."

"And I appeal to them to incorporate in the bill the full terms and conditions under which it shall be administered, rather than to leave those terms and conditions for future determination by the governor-in-council."

Failure to do this, he said, would mean "that we will not have compulsory selective service in any practical sense—we shall have only the theory on the statute books."

He said he would vote for second reading of the bill, but would insist on the changes he had suggested.

At Our Front Door

TORPEDOING OF A FREIGHTER, OUTWARD bound, at the entrance of Juan de Fuca Strait, brings the war up to our front door.

How close this attack was may be realized from the fact that the scene of it would be visible from Port Renfrew and even from Jordan River. That being so, both these places could well have been shelled by the submarine, as Sydney harbor, Australia, was shelled a few days ago and the coast of California before that.

Our coastal shipping route up the west coast of this island is now in a submarine zone. The experience of the crew of the torpedoed merchantman reminds us that those who man the ships going out the Strait from this port now face the dangers that have been the lot of seamen on other coasts. They, it is needless to add, face them with equal courage.

Presence of this submarine removes any grounds for wishful thinking that the Japanese might by-pass our coast. Since before the war defences have been developed in this area, but even the men responsible for them admit their inadequacy. This attack should serve as warning to Ottawa that the Japanese have designs on us as well as others. The Japanese may attempt to repeat the Dutch Harbor raid any day at some strategic point along our coastline. This week there was an appeal in Parliament for additional defence equipment in this area. Surely Ottawa can now have no excuse for saying that not very much can happen "way out here." In defence circles the attitude has too much been that raids on this coast are possible but "you cannot do very much about them." It is time for such fatalistic complacency to be abandoned.

On the civilian front, the significance of this torpedoing at our front door will be lost if it does not stimulate us to greater efforts all down the line in our preparations for any emergency, including the filling of the ranks of our reserve army.

Conscription

TWO POINTS WITH RESPECT TO THE Bill now before Parliament to amend the National Resources Act were made clear by Prime Minister King in his speech.

One was that the bill seeks only to amend the act in accordance with the will of the people as expressed in the plebiscite of April 27 and does not mean the adoption of any new principle with respect to the raising of men for military service. To this no anti-conscriptionist can logically object.

The other was that if and when it is found necessary to extend the conscription provision to make all draftees liable for overseas service, the move can be made without referring it back to Parliament.

It was with the second point that the anti-conscriptionists have been mostly concerned. Their demand has been that the cabinet should not be free to declare overseas conscription necessary at any moment, but that Parliament should be consulted before any further steps were taken. This would involve, of course, fighting the conscription issue all over again, with the inflaming anew of sectional and racial passions. If the Bill now before the House passes, there will be no second conscription debate hanging over the head of Parliament. In this Mr. King has taken a stand against the anti-conscriptionists. To those who voted "yes" in the plebiscite, it will be welcomed as a real gain in the direction of removing the conscription issue from the realm of sectional politics.

Conscriptionists may take objection to Mr. King's statement that conscription "may never become necessary." There is always a possibility of some collapse or turn in events to bring about a sudden end to the war. Some commentators of standing have seen the possibility of it ending before many months. In that case, conscription for overseas service in Canada might not be necessary as we still have more than enough volunteers to fill overseas requirements.

However, we cannot build our plans around any theory of an early end to the war. And neither does Mr. King. The Bill is based on the assumption that the war is to go on and that conscription for overseas service will be necessary and will be ordered. That is the important thing to remember.

Aligning their views in New York newspapers several writers, who claim to speak for a number of French-Canadian colleagues, have advocated annexation of French-Canada by the United States. Whether they speak for many of their fellow French-Canadians is doubtful, but what they have overlooked is vital. If accepted by the United States they would have to accept compulsory education and it would be in English, not French. There would be no choice about conscription or consideration of their feelings as a section of the country. They would take it without argument like the rest of the country, or accept the consequences, and there apparently is no wavering on the subject in the U.S.A.

Ships or Santa Claus?

LISTING SOME OF THE THINGS THE war will cause the world to do without, emphasizes how unnecessary they were and how well the standard of living can stand the shock of being denied them. S. M. Armstrong, Wartime Prices and Trade Board investigator, mentioned some of them before the Victoria Credit Granters.

One hotel used to provide stationery imprinted with a guest's own name and room number 30 minutes after the registration card had been signed. One specialty shop maintained a laundry in which all bills and coins were washed before being passed out as change. Mr. Armstrong said the board was cutting the frills from retail business in wartime. The two striking examples he mentioned, though in the ultra service class, are some indication of how frills may be cut before people suffer.

Main objective of the board is to conserve material, save labor and avoid runaway prices and the disaster of uncontrolled inflation. As the investigator puts it, "We have to make a choice between guns or glamour, dive bombers or delivery cars, ships or Santa Claus."

Merchants and consumers have shown readiness to co-operate. The board has been charged with the enforcement of regulations which in normal times would have stirred walls of protests. Though no wartime regulation yet made has caused a single change of any great importance in the lives of civilians, there have been changes which would have been vigorously protested in peacetime. It speaks well for the diplomatic way officials of the board have carried out their duties and the co-operative spirit of merchants and consumers that these changes have been put into effect and accepted with a minimum of complaint.

Yellow Cloud

THE SHIPMENT OF BRITISH AND American planes that arrived in China this week is not large enough, says Chiang Kai-shek. He wants "at least a thousand planes" and he wants them now to cope with the Japanese forces which are being with the Japanese spearhead forces pushing towards the heart of China.

Chiang adds that the western world had better wake up and give China some real help, or else China may be forced to come to terms with Japan. The possibility may be remote, but it definitely is not an impossibility. Because it is not an impossibility it is high time that we in the western world began to think over the whole question of our present and future relationship with what we used to call "the unchanging East." The East is now changing, and unless we permit it and help it to change the right way, it is going to change in the wrong way. If that happens, this World War II may prove to be the mere curtain-raiser for the real nightmare of the ages—the mammoth clash of color, the Yellow Peril—or whatever other name can be devised to picture the last act of the decline of the West—the passing of the white man from his place of leadership and even equality.

Notes

Children will be just as enthusiastic about the approach of school closing for vacation as mother won't.

Prayers for help are most effectual when they are three parts honest humility and seven parts sweat.

With all due respect to many fine clergymen who serve as chaplains in the army, navy or air force, Rev. John Emrys Jones of Pontypridd, Wales, should be in a better position than many to understand servicemen and their problems when the war is over. Mr. Jones, who is 36 years of age and minister of a Presbyterian Church, has joined the air force and will serve in the ranks. "I want," he says, "to live the same life as the boys, so I can preach to them with understanding after the war." It is true many ministers serve with courage in the role of chaplains. Casualty lists have testified to the fact that they do not hesitate to serve in the danger zones. But rank in the services puts a barrier between officers and men. It handicaps the activities of a clergyman who would mingle freely with men in the ranks, whether the clergyman wearing an officer's uniform would have it or not.

BENEVOLENCE PASSES

From New York Times

The East Indian or the Chinese does not care to be ruled by Japan, but if he must be ruled by an arbitrary outside power he may prefer one of "his own kind." The attitude may be shortsighted, for while control in the Orient has been in process of relaxation for many years, whereas Japanese control is new and brutal. But the attitude exists. We have to deal with it. The only way we can successfully deal with it is to concede the equality of the Eastern and Western races: not their present equality in education, in industrial power or in living standards but their equality in rights and responsibilities, individual for individual, given the same freedoms and opportunities. The Eastern peoples owe much to the benevolent aspects of Western imperialism: medical services, sanitation, lowered death rates. In many cases better living conditions, sometimes protection against domestic anarchy or native tyrannies. But benevolence, as a quality shown by a superior toward an inferior, is out of date. We can henceforth be of real use to peoples like the East Indians and the Chinese only if we let them be equally useful to us as fellow-citizens in a democratic world civilization.

LAST CHAPTER

THERE WILL BE some relief among readers of this department at the news that the serious season will end today and the silly season—as it used to be called in the days when the world was sane enough to permit itself a little relaxation—is about to begin. But one last comment must be made about the scene in Washington before we leave it and return to Saanich—some attempt to evaluate the enormous, complex and baffling process now under way in this capital of the United States.

Probably the great thing, the fundamental thing, the most important thing in our times, is the decision of the United States to re-enter the world and, more, to underwrite it. The effect of this decision no man can yet calculate. To say that it alters the whole course of human history, of course, is to utter something completely obvious. Already it has altered human history by making it possible for the democracies to win the war. The effects later will be much larger, if they do not fail.

OLD POLICY

SINCE 1776 the United States has been one of the most important factors in modern civilization. In its early times it was important not for its physical and economic power but because it contained a great and revolutionary idea which swept over the world and was put to its final test in this war. In later times the United States was the largest industrial power and hence, potentially, the largest military and economic power.

Yet in all this time, with the brief interval between 1917 and 1920, the United States has stayed at home and minded its own business and assumed that it could continue to do so. The fundamental policy of this nation, from its beginning, based on the advice of Washington, was to isolate itself as completely as possible from friends and enemies alike.

If that policy has been abandoned the effect is like that of a heavy man suddenly seating himself on one side of a delicately balanced see-saw. The weight of the United States can tip the whole scales of the human family. There is every reason to believe that the decision here already has been made. The government acts on the assumption that it has been made and plans all its future policies accordingly. The polls of public opinion show an astounding change in public sentiment, and the realization that the United States cannot stay out of the world's troubles.

No one should discount the dangers of this process. In the last war it seemed at this stage that the United States had re-entered the world to stay, but by 1920 it had retired again and was erecting those insensate tariffs which finally assured the Great Depression. Accidents of politics and personality can happen again, but it is almost inconceivable now that the old mistake will be made again. The larger danger is that isolationism, in defeat, may turn into something still more disagreeable.

UNDERGROUND

THE ISOLATIONISTS have been driven underground. They say now they want to win the war and doubtless all but a few of them are sincere in that. But a tough inner core of these people, while unable to resist this war, has not learned anything or forgotten anything—the true Bourbons of our time.

They still hate the outside world. They still hate the British Commonwealth. And after the war they will emerge from the rabbit holes where they are hiding now. They will make one final attempt to capture the leadership of the United States and, if they succeed, isolationism could become a new brand of American imperialism. If they have to re-enter the world there are some isolationists who would push the world around.

There is no reason yet to believe that these people are more than a small minority, or that the ordinary American has lost his common sense or his basic friendliness. Nevertheless, it is something that must be watched when the war is over.

If the United States has made a permanent decision in international affairs, which will alter the course of our century, it has made another in domestic affairs which cannot fail to affect the domestic policies of all democratic governments. This decision, as I have tried to say before, means simply that the government has underwritten prosperity and guaranteed that there will not be another depression.

FOR CANADA

THE IMPLICATIONS of that policy are too large to be explored here but, for Canada, they are pretty obvious. If the United States government spends enough money to maintain prosperity when it threatens to subside, no Canadian government can long resist that example. If "Spending" is to be a permanent policy in the United States it will become a permanent policy here.

In fact, the question, I suggest, is not whether we are to have a continental policy of government spending where it is needed to maintain employment, but whether this process can be divorced from a general government control of the whole economy. The Socialists will rub their hands and say there is no chance of such a divorce, that this is the beginning of complete Socialism. Let them not rub too quickly. By every orthodox theory we should have Socialism already, but we haven't and the most vigorous instinct of the American people is to hang on to private enterprise, private profit and private property.

Take care of the pennies and the government will take care of the dollars.

Mr. Brockington Departs

News that Leonard W. Brockington has been retained by the British Ministry of Information should make Canadians both pleased and ashamed.

We should be pleased because one of our most talented citizens has been chosen to do a work of world-wide importance in cementing bonds of friendship between the United Nations. There are few speakers in the English-speaking world who class with Mr. Brockington, not only as orators in the sense of being eloquent spokesmen; but also as real personalities who have something to say which people should hear.

On those occasions when he was permitted to function, Mr. Brockington did more to make the people of other countries sense something of the soul of Canada in this war, than has any other Canadian.

But the tragic fact was that he was not allowed to function very often. And when he was allowed to function, his subjects were largely confined to what he himself called, in reference to another matter, "attitudes, platitudes and beatitudes."

REAL MAN LOST

One of the weakest of the present Canadian departments is the Ministry of Public Information. The reason for that is intertwined with the whole publicity policy of the government. Mr. King is one of the most astute political technicians who ever operated in Canada. He proceeds on the policy, "the less you say, the less you have to deny." He is aware that for every politician who talks himself into power, there are 10 who talk themselves out of it. All through this war he has fought a masterly retreat against any opening up in a big way of publicity. It was for that reason that the government ignored the natural and logical choice when it was necessary to find a minister of public information. If Mr. Brockington had been given the job, and really turned loose to do it with all the powers necessary, he would have created for Canada a volume of good will which is now almost non-existent.

Time and time again, we see the effects of this hangover in practice. People with natural genius like Brockington do not get in their own country the opportunity to do their stuff. So they are grabbed off by other countries. Usually it is the United States that does the grabbing. But sometimes it is Britain.

On the rare occasions when Canada has crashed through this appalling littleness, we have succeeded in getting to the top real leaders. We did that at Confederation. We did that in the last war—at least on the fighting fronts. But usually, the reverse is true. Not all the neglected talents have the stature of the Brockingtons. But added together, the neglected leaders, in all walks of life, would make a real lost legion.

Canada will never become a great nation until the day is done when a man with real ability has to go outside his own country to win recognition.

Lt.-Col. Stephenson Once a Bugler

The commanding officer of the 3rd (Reserve) Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment (M.G.), Lt.-Col. F. B. J. Stephenson, went overseas in the last war as a bugler. He was later a dispatch rider with the 16th Battalion and rose to commissioned rank in the field.

Col. Stephenson's unit, which is now recruiting up to strength, has in several reflected glories. The Canadian Scottish Regiment, of which it is a part, has two battalions in the active forces at the present time. The regiment perpetuates the famous 16th Battalion C.E.F., which was the original Canadian Scottish, formed from the Gordons, Seaforth's, Argyles, Sutherland's and Camerons, and, moreover, the regiment is allied with the Royal Scots, whose battle honors overshadow all others, and whose colonel-in-chief is H.R.H. Princess Royal. Thus the Canadian Scottish, though young as regiments go, has generations of the highest traditions behind it, and earned for itself honors and distinctions in its own right during the last war. With three battalions ready to prove their mettle in the present conflict, the chapter in the making will be worthy of their name.

Recruits are needed to bring the 3rd (Reserve) Battalion up to strength. Training is offered to all who can meet the simple requirements and without interruption to civilian employment. For the present all inquiries should be made to the orderly room, the Armouries, and by phoning Empire 6119.

June Flower Show

At the executive committee meeting of the Victoria Horticultural Society, Tuesday, plans were made for the show of flowers and vegetables which will be held in the Crystal Garden June 19 and 20.

The show will feature roses, for which there are 30 classes. One class, consisting of a basket and three vases of roses, is open to any school on Vancouver Island, and in this class roses may be obtained from any garden, provided they are not grown under glass.

The society invites all gardeners in Victoria to get in touch with Alderman D. D. McTavish, 618 Broughton Street, and make at least one entry. There are classes which cover nearly every phase of gardening.

Inspector A. H. Bishop, civilian protection officer, said today the supply of helmets and whistles promised last week by the provincial civilian protection committee had not arrived in Victoria. He said the supplies would be distributed as soon as they were available here.

The committee in Vancouver has informed Inspector Bishop gas masks will be delivered to Victoria at the end of this month.

NEW CHAIRMAN TAKES OVER—Retirement of Dr. George M. Weir, formerly of Victoria (at left), and the appointment of Jack Pembroke of Montreal (right), as chairman of the Dependents' Board of Trustees, was announced by the Department of National Defence. Services of Dr. Weir, formerly Minister of Education for B.C., were loaned to the board by the Department of National Health. He will now take up his duties as Acting Director of Training in connection with the Rehabilitation Committee of the department. The new chairman, who is an assistant manager of the Royal Trust Company, Montreal, will serve on a part-time basis and without remuneration, his services having been made available by the trust company at the special request of the Minister of National Defence.

Sun's Heat Will Reach 23-Year Low in 1945

WASHINGTON—Hitler, in his speech before launching his much-delayed spring drive, repeated his alibi about the chilliness of the winter in Russia. If the earth's weather were only directly dependent on the sun's heat it would be possible to promise him even colder winters for the next four years.

Data compiled by Smithsonian Institution observers in many parts of the world, and by Dr. Charles G. Abbot, secretary of the institution, together with L. B. Aldrich and W. H. Hoover, indicate the sun will be at its lowest ebb, thermally speaking, in 1945. After that our planetary system's central furnace will begin to warm up again.

Unfortunately the relation between the sun's radiation and the earth's temperature is not so simple and direct. Cooling off of the sun might even result in directly warming up of certain parts of the earth, by reducing the amount of cloudiness and thereby letting the sun's rays, even though diminished, shine longer on the earth's surface.

Confident prediction of long-range fluctuations in the heat radiated by the sun can be made because of the many thousands of accurate readings of solar heat, taken daily with specially designed, highly sensitive instruments, in observatories at Mt. Montezuma in Chile, Mt. Saint Katherine in the Sinai wilderness, and Table Mountain in the

Organist Degree

Richard Stephen Eaton, music master at the preparatory school, upper Canada College, Toronto, was awarded the degree of Mus. Bac., in absentia, by McGill University at its convocation exercises May 27. Mr. Eaton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eaton, 1216 Rudlin Street, and was educated at George Jay and Victoria High schools. Before leaving for eastern Canada he was assistant organist at Christ Church Cathedral and was a frequent winner in B.C. musical festivals. He captured the Spurgeon Cup three successive years. He also won the Marion Peterson scholarship three times, taking his studies at McGill University, Montreal.

Mojave Desert of California. These have been carefully tabulated and are published, with interpretations, in Vol. 6 of the Annals of the Astrophysical Observatory of the Smithsonian Institution, just off the press.

SUN HAS 14 CYCLES

Study of this mass of data shows there are 14 distinguishable intensity cycles in the sun's radiation. Some of them are of only brief duration, others require years for the swing from high to low. Once every 23 years all the lows come in together and that combination low-point is due in 1945.

There seems to be little direct relation between solar radiation as such and the numbers of sunspots. Sunspots, however, do have their own effect on the earth's weather by giving off vast streams of electrically-charged particles which shoot through space. Some of them, entering the earth's atmosphere, serve as nuclei for the condensation of water vapor in the upper atmosphere and thus lead to the increase of cloudiness and of rainfall, which may be entirely independent of heat effects.

Overseas Parcels Subject of Query

LONDON (CP)—Adam McKinnay, labor member for Dumfriesshire, gave notice in the House of Commons today of a question asking the Postmaster-General "if he is aware that parcels sent from Canada to Canadian airmen in this country rarely arrive at their destination."

He also asked whether steps would be taken to "abolish the contents label attached to parcels so as to make it more difficult for thieves."

Children Commence Feeding Silkworms

School children of Greater Victoria are now feeding silkworms as their part in starting a silk-worm industry on Vancouver Island.

The eggs are hatching and the children and their teachers are busy gathering mulberry leaves on which to feed the worms.

Cecil French, promoter of the scheme, has supplied a list of available mulberry leaves to the schools.

"There are plenty of eggs and young silkworms available for anyone who is interested," Mr.

French said today, as he told how several navy, army and air force officers have asked for a supply, with the idea of entering the industry when the war is over.

Mr. French obtained his supply of eggs from a man in Washington, D.C., to whom he supplied eggs when he lived in the U.S. capital in 1935.

Inventor in Youth

STONE, England (CP)—John Hartley, 96, widely known as an engineering inventor, died in this Staffordshire town. When he was 25 he had taken out more than 120 patents.

More Ask War Stamps

Ten per cent of the people of B.C. still have not filed papers for return of their 1941 1 per cent income tax, provincial income tax officials said today.

June 30 is the deadline for civilians. There is no deadline for sailors, soldiers or airmen. Their tax will be refunded at any time. Many men and some women, too, who paid the tax for the first six months of 1941, are now in uniform in many parts of the world, mostly England. Some are interned in Germany and Hongkong.

More people are now asking for return of their tax in war savings stamps. At first comparatively few asked for stamps; now the number is running better than 10 per cent.

Clerks in the taxation department are still mailing cheques daily.

WHEN you feel depressed, listless and headachy, you're almost sure to make mistakes. And, if your job is the exacting, nerve-tiring kind that gives you little chance for healthful exercise, you are extra liable to have these symptoms of incomplete elimination. Don't let them rob you of an alert mind and healthy body. Follow these two rules of health: (1) To get well, see your doctor; (2) To keep well, watch your habits. Keep the food wastes moving promptly. But no harsh cathartics! Instead, make sure you get plenty of needed "bulk" in your diet. Start every morning with a bowl of delicious, crunchy Kellogg's Bran Flakes. With Other Parts Of Wheat. Gently laxative, they help supply valuable minerals and proteins, too. And they're so good, so crisp and tempting, so out-and-out delicious, you'll want to make them a daily habit from the start. Get a package of Kellogg's Bran Flakes today. ## V.O.N. Hear Reports On Ottawa Meeting

Highlights of the 44th annual meeting in Ottawa of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada were reviewed at the board meeting of the Victoria branch Tuesday, by Miss A. Creaser, the supervisor, who attended as Victoria delegate.

Outstanding features of the Eastern meeting included the report of Miss Maude H. Hall, acting chief superintendent, who stated that 727,161 visits have been made in the past year to a total of 90,101 patients, and 47,627 of these were made to families of the armed forces. Three new branches were opened in the Dominion during the year, making a total of 96.

"Retirement Pensions for Victorian Order Nurses" was the subject of a special session. "Child Welfare in Wartime" was discussed by Dr. Allan Brown, physician-in-chief of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto. Dr. Brown stressed the point that children are our second line of defence, and that their care should be our greatest urge during the war emergency. Dr. George Davidson, executive director of the Canadian Welfare Council, who was formerly of Victoria, gave an address on "The Place of Volunteer Health and Welfare Services in Canada at War."

Miss Creaser described the reports of the advisory committee on nursing, and that of education and publicity, under Senator Carline Wilson, as being among the most interesting. Meetings were held in the Chateau Laurier and at Rideau Hall; the attendance being approximately 250.

LOCAL REPORTS

In Victoria, during the month of May, 1,141 visits were made by the V.O.N. There were 234 new patients, 236 calls to mothers and babies, 206 to communicable disease patients, two to cancer, 242 chronic, 325 others, three confinements, 128 health supervision calls, and five night calls. There was a total attendance of 132 at the Well Baby Clinics.

Committee reports were heard from Mrs. George Hall on cars, Mrs. G. B. Williams, on the Lenten sewing, Mrs. Sehl on the prenatal sewing classes. Mrs. Alec Straith announced the sponsoring of films on war work by the Local Council of Women, and also appealed for tins for the council's jam-making project.

Volunteers for the Well Baby Clinic at Welfare House, to be held throughout the summer, included Mesdames R. B. Horton, F. W. Mudge, Murray Cameron, J. H. Wilson, G. B. Willis, S. D. Markham, R. Felton and A. Wyllie.

Mrs. Richard Felton, convener for the annual rummage sale to be held in the fall, made an appeal to members for saleable articles.

Lady Drummond Dies in Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Lady Drummond, one of Canada's most eminent women, died at her home here Wednesday, two years after failing health forced her retirement from the humanitarian field that brought her renown in Canada and Great Britain.

Widow of Sir George Drummond, she was connected with a long list of humanitarian projects, and was best known for her work among wounded soldiers in the First Great War, a conflict in which she lost her only son, Guy, in 1915.

She is survived by her stepson, Huntly Drummond, president of the Bank of Montreal; and by two sisters, Miss Helen Parker and Mrs. Hugh Wornham of Montreal.

Primrose Lodge, D.O.E., will meet in the S.O.E. Hall Friday night at 8.

Stop That Cough and Sleep Well!

A wracking cough often keeps you awake at night and is a heavy strain on your vitality. Bronchial tubes are constantly irritated. Reid's Bronchitis Remedy has been developed especially to meet this condition. It is made from a soothing emulsion of Canadian Balsam. Reid's Bronchitis Remedy is on sale for 35c and 50c at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

A popular visitor to Victoria, her former home, is Mrs. H. M. Cassidy, who with her husband, Dr. Cassidy, professor of social welfare at the University of California, Berkeley, and former director of B.C.'s social services, is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. R. Pearce, Cavendish Avenue. Their children will stay with Mrs. Pearce while Dr. and Mrs. Cassidy go to Ottawa where Dr. Cassidy will gather material for a book on postwar problems. Dr. and Mrs. Cassidy will leave Friday and will return in August for a few weeks before continuing to their home in the south. Mrs. Cassidy is keenly interested in social welfare, being a former president of the Y.W.C.A. and active in the Children's Aid in Victoria. She is helping to establish a new organization of the Y.W.C.A. in Berkeley, concerned mainly with the problems of women in industry.

Social and Personal

Lieut. Col. Walter McInnis, Regina, who returned recently from overseas, has arrived in Victoria, being now attached to the Western Defence Command.

Sqdn. Ldr. Robert Bell-Irving has arrived by plane from the east to spend a 10-day leave in Vancouver with his mother, Mrs. Henry Bell-Irving, and they plan to week-end in Victoria at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. David Allen, Victoria, L.A.C. Wilfred Bomford, R.C.A.F., Patricia Bay, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bomford, Mrs. H. G. Allen, Mrs. Bruce McKelvie, and Miss Bernice McKelvie, of Cobble Hill, were among the out-of-town guests at the wedding in Vancouver recently of Miss Dorothy Mulford and P.O. Norman Hubert Bomford, R.C.A.F.

In honor of Miss Doris Griffin, whose marriage will take place this month, Mrs. R. W. English entertained at a tressure shower at her home, Qu'Appelle Street, Wednesday afternoon. A corsage of pink Talisman roses was presented to the bride-elect and to her mother, Mrs. C. E. Griffin, one of yellow roses. The gifts were concealed in a decorated canoe. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Johnston. The table was prettily appointed and covered with a lace cloth, sweet peas forming the centerpiece. Among the guests were Mesdames D. Cobb, R. W. English, H. Lasenby, N. Coles, B. Pritchett and A. Coles and Miss Gwen Griffin.

Miss Edna Holdridge, whose marriage to Mr. John Fenwick takes place in June, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. W. McCarrison. Miss Holdridge was presented with a corsage bouquet, later opening the shower gifts, which had been concealed beneath the gown of a bridal-attired doll. After an evening of games, refreshments were served from a lace-covered table centred with a crystal bowl of pink carnations, tulip and pink tapers in silver sconces, the prospective bride cutting the miniature wedding cake. Mrs. McCarrison was assisted in serving by the little Misses Joyce Fenwick and Shirley Anne Price. Other guests were Mesdames J. McCarrison, Sr., R. B. Fenwick, J. Morris, A. Holman, W. T. G. Cosman, C. E. Price and the Misses Jean Fenwick and Florence Cosman.

congratulate SALLY!

It was somewhat of an adventure, and many people thought it a RASH adventure when Eddy decided to open the first exclusive Women's Wear Store away out here at the North end of Victoria's Shopping District.

But Eddy's ideas about conducting a business to please the ladies, of giving values to delight them, and of keeping stocks great and varied enough to satisfy them—ideas like these can't be hidden under a Bushel, nor could a distance of two or three City blocks keep the ladies from the delights of "Eddy-conomy."

And now another Merchant catering to the ladies is following our lead and venturing into the "Wilds" of the North end of Douglas Street. It used to be said that "Trade Follows the Flag" but today we congratulate Sally for following Eddy, and hope that together we may continue to grow with a growing Victoria.

Catholic Women Plan Garden Party

The grounds of the Bishop's House, View Street, will be the scene, July 4, of the annual garden party for St. Andrew's Cathedral held by the senior sub-division of the Catholic Women's League, in the Parish Hall. Afternoon tea will be in charge of Mrs. Rule; aprons and fancy work, Mrs. Morry, and other stalls and games will be managed by other parish groups. Mrs. Cownden, president, will be general convener and will complete the arrangements for the annual parish entertainment.

Mrs. P. C. Shaw, convener for Red Cross and war effort, reported on a Red Cross garden party to be held soon and asked the assistance of the ladies of the C.W.L. salvage work, fruit canning for overseas, canteen work, war savings and price ceilings were discussed and arrangements made for the continuance of the work during the summer season. Thanks were expressed to Mrs. Blair Reid, Mrs. Morry and Mrs. Shaw for the successful banquet at the time of Rev. Father Arthur Leonard's ordination. Assistance was solicited for the mission circulating library in charge of Mrs. N. McDonnell at Ladysmith.

Hospital visiting for July and August at St. Joseph's Hospital and Mount St. Mary will be continued by Mrs. M. E. O'Neill and Mrs. Windau. Mrs. Shaw reported increased circulation of the league magazine. Miss J. M. Clay reported on discussion clubs and also on lay retreats.

Owing to the departure of Mrs. Roy Kissinger, first vice-president, to reside in Chiemalnu, her resignation was accepted and Mrs. Rule was elected to take her place on the senior executive. The attendance prize was given to Mrs. Kissinger and regret expressed that she was leaving.

Mrs. Grant, reporting on immigration, asked for more hospitality to be extended to the soldiers, sailors and airmen stationed in Victoria and vicinity. A standing vote of sympathy was extended to Mrs. McManus in the recent death of her husband at Sydney.

A social evening for all members, and especially for newcomers to the city will be held July 16, at 8, in the Cathedral Parish Hall.

St. Matthias' Evening Guild will close its season with a social evening at the rectory, Monday, June 15.

Don't be the missing man.

Amateur Drama Earns Praise

Major L. Bullock-Webster, director of the Drama Branch of the B.C. Education Department, has returned from Fort St. John in the Peace River Block, where he adjudicated festivals in the Bulkley Valley, McBride and Pouce Coupe. In spite of wounds in the leg received in the C.N.R. train wreck at Avola, Major Bullock-Webster managed to complete his assignments satisfactorily, adjudicating the following day at McBride.

Major Bullock-Webster reported a surprisingly good attendance at all the festivals in the north, although new traffic regulations governing the use of motors and trucks have curtailed transportation. In the Peace River area 14 plays were presented, while 13 verse speaking choirs and 185 elocutionists competed for challenge cups presented by local organizations.

The standard of work was high, he reports. The play presented by the Pouce Coupe Club, "East of Eden," by Christopher Morley, would have been noteworthy in

Conservation of Tea Patriotic and Smart

"Carry your own tea, or substitute with something else" is the new wartime fashion where afternoon tea parties, garden parties and picnic teas are concerned. Every conscientious and patriotic-minded person is anxious to assist the government in its desire to conserve tea and coffee, and thus release tea and coffee carrying ships for the more urgent wartime uses to which they can be put. It is now not only patriotic but "smart" to "measure skimpily" or substitute soft drinks or something else.

Women's wits are busy trying to devise ways and means of effecting the saving without interfering too much with the pleasant habits of a lifetime.

Many Victoria organizations have no contest of amateur players. This cave-man presentation was exceedingly daring both in conception and costuming, but was exceedingly well done, Major Bullock-Webster stated.

Don't be the missing man.

and social groups are falling in with the plan. The Junior League, at its fashion show and garden party at "Molton Combe" last Saturday instituted the soft drinks substitute for the first time at any major social event in Victoria. Other local groups are falling in line. In Vancouver the idea is gaining popularity. When the Triple Entente I.O.D.E. planned a morning party for Friday at Shaughnessy Golf Club it was to have been a coffee hour, but the new rationing regulations decided a change in favour of bouillon. In deference to rationing fruit cup was served in favour of tea at the afternoon affair given in Vancouver this week by the Vancouver General Hospital W.A. for the voluntary workers who had helped them during the past year. Several Victoria organizations have announced "soft drinks" in lieu of tea at forthcoming events.

One patriotic Canadian woman, forewarned about tea rationing, has been conserving tea by making a strong infusion which she pours off the leaves and serves in a cream jug. Those in the family who want tea pour in the amount they want and fill up the cup with boiling water.

"I'll keep for a week, and there's no throwing out of half a pot of unused tea after every meal," she says. She puts a cup of tea to a quart of boiling water, brews for 10 minutes, then strains into a sealer, stores in the refrigerator, and draws off when needed into the family cream jug.

Weddings

GEORGE-UNWIN

Standards of spring flowers, with blue delphiniums, pink and white peonies, white roses and smilax, and vases of calla lilies and white roses on the altar made a lovely setting for the wedding Wednesday night at 8:30 at St. Matthias' Church of Daphne Bernice, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Unwin, 1765 Ross Street, and Mr. Harold Corbett George, eldest son of Alderman and Mrs. P. E. George, 3171 Highview Street, Rev. John Blewett.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful long white gown of southwinds crepe cut on simple lines, the bodice being distinguished by a high neck, elbow-length sleeves and self-covered buttons to the waist in front. Her shoulder length veil was edged in tiny sprigs of orange blossom and fell from a coronet of pearl and blossoms. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and pink rosebuds showered with blue-nigella.

Miss Margaret George, sister of the groom, was maid of honor in a becoming full-skirted gown of pale pink sheer with Bishop sleeves, with which she wore a doll hat trimmed with pink and blue flowers and carried a bouquet of blue delphiniums and pink snapdragons. Little Lorna Jean Unwin, niece of the bride, was flower girl in a dainty frock and bonnet of blue taffeta and a quaint colonial bouquet in pink and blue blooms.

Supporting his brother was Mr. Douglas George, and the ushers were Messrs. John Unwin, brother of the bride, and Sergeant Fred Wildmore, R.A.F.

Mr. Maurice Foster presided at the organ and during the signing of the register accompanied Mr. Arthur Unwin, the bride's brother, who sang the solo, "O Perfect Love."

Friends were received after the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. V. Barnes, 337 Foul Bay Road, where decorations similar to those in the church were carried out. The couple receiving before a flower-banked fireplace. They were assisted by Mrs. Unwin in a navy blue redingote with matching hat and corsage of pink sweet peas and carnations, and Mrs. George wearing a turquoise blue costume with corsage of gardenias and sweet peas. The three-tiered wedding cake centred the bridal table, flanked by crystal vases of sweet peas and lighted tapers in crystal holders. Mr. Frank Hunter proposed the toast.

For her honeymoon trip to the mainland the bride changed to a printed gold silk frock with matching hat and accessories of British tan over which she donned an imported tweed coat with fur collar. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. George will live at 161 Robertson Street.

HOBSON-LEASK

Friday evening at 7.30 in the chapel of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated at the wedding of Lillian Priscilla, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Leask, 1318 Balmoral Avenue, and Sergeant Charles Hobson, 17th Searchlight Battery, only son of the late Captain and Mrs. Hobson, of Victoria.

The attendants were Mrs. H. J. Scott and Sergeant Louis Durant. A moss green wool suit was chosen by the bride, with burnt-straw hat trimmed with matching green grosgrain and matching accessories and she wore a shoulder spray of mauve orchids. Mrs. Scott was dressed in a beige-blond wool costume with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

A small reception was held after the ceremony at the home of Mrs. W. Pickersgill, 1121 Colinson Street, where intimate friends and relatives gathered to wish the couple good wishes. Spring flowers were attractively arranged throughout the reception rooms. The couple will make their home in Victoria.

RAWSON-JACK

A quiet wedding took place in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt, when Doreen Evelyn Shannan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Jack of Stewart, became the bride of C.P.O. John Ernest Rawson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rawson, 3637 West Third, Vancouver. Rev. R. C. S. Devenish officiated.

Given in marriage by Stoker P.O. G. Adam, the bride wore a blue sheer dress with lace bodice and blue and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and sweet peas. Mrs. F. French was the only attendant, and P.O. French was best man.

After a reception in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. C. Cane, Craigflower Road, the bride and groom left for Vancouver for a short honeymoon. They will reside in Victoria.

MASON-RICHARDSON

Garden City United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening when Rev. W. Allan united in wedlock Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Richardson, to Mr. Walter Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mason of Ponoka, Alberta. The church was decorated with a profusion of lupine, iris, columbine, roses and greenery, and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Elsie, who also sang the solo, "God Gave Me You," accompanied by Mrs. D. Reid.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked attractive in a dress of French blue silk crepe with pleated bodice and elbow-length sleeves, with blue hat trimmed with white. The dress accessories were of white, and the bride wore a corsage bouquet of sweetheart roses and delphinium. Mrs. H. Fields assisted as matron of honor, attired in a beautiful gown of figured blue silk with hat to match, and wearing a corsage of sweet peas. Mr. H. Field acted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Grange Road, Mrs. Richardson receiving the guests costumed in mauve figured silk crepe, and wearing a corsage of mauve sweet peas. The reception was attended by a few intimate friends and relatives. The three-tier wedding cake on the bride's table was flanked by vases of roses, and in serving the refreshments the

Styles of 'Sixties' At Bridal Pageant

Five separate groups, each embracing a distinctive period in bridal dress fashions, will be presented at the carefully-planned bridal pageant which will be held Friday evening at 8 at the First United Church.

Sponsored by the Evening Group of the First United Church Women's Auxiliary, the pageant will introduce some beautiful authentic wedding gowns of the 'sixties and 'seventies as well as many more up-to-date and equally beautiful.

The five sections will be as follows: wedding gowns from 1860 to 1900, historic gowns from 1900-1920, wedding gowns from 1920-1940, and bridal parties of 1941 and 1942, in which the brides will have their attendants.

Between the sections vocal numbers will be offered by Miss Carol Menzies and Miss Elsie Fryatt, a minuet by pupils of Miss Florence Clough, and instrumental numbers by Chas. Peaker. Mrs. W. H. Wilson, as commentator, will introduce the models, giving the interesting facts about each gown. Some of the gowns will be worn by granddaughters of the original brides and others will be modelled by members of the Evening Group, while some of the more modern ones will be worn by the original brides themselves.

The convenor of the pageant is Mrs. Robert Niven, who with Mrs. Robert Wallace, president of the group, and other members has organized what is certain to prove a most interesting and entertaining evening. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the group or at the door.

The proceeds will be used for the service work of the group.

hostess was assisted by Mesdames S. Linford and Moores. For traveling, the bride was attended in a becoming three-piece English tweed suit in beige, with brown accessories and with brown hat to match. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Mason will take up residence in Ponoka.

WORTH-ROBINSON

At St. Mary's Church Wednesday evening at 8.30 Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns officiated at the marriage of Lucy Margaret Robinson, younger daughter of the late Mr. B. G. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, 2608 Belmont Avenue, and Flying Officer Marshall A. D. Worth, younger son of the late Mr. I. D. Worth and Mrs. Worth, 994 West 19th Avenue, Vancouver. The church was decorated with pink and white peonies.

Given in marriage by Mr. R. H. Oliver, an old family friend, the bride wore a lovely classical gown of white seafoam sheer with long bishop sleeves, yoke and ruffs of lace, and a wide band of lace outlining the waist. The bridal veil of all-over embroidery trimmed with seed pearls and white flowers fell from beneath a coronet of orange blossom. The bride's bouquet was of red and white roses. Barbara Slack, the bride's young niece, was her attendant, wearing a floor-length frock of pale pink point d'esprit with short puff sleeves, and a matching bandeau studded with blue flowers in her hair. She carried a Victorian posy. Mr. Frank Worth, Vancouver, supported his brother, and Signaller Jack Robinson, R.C.C.S., brother of the bride, and Flight-Sgt. William Dee, R.C.A.F., were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Oliver, 1388 Monterey Avenue, where roses predominated in the lovely floral decorations. Mrs.

Vancouver Island Resorts Perfect for June Holiday

By E. L. F.

A choice of cottages at TILlicum SEASIDE CAMP, Yellow Point, Cozy and comfortable. Complete with range, cooking utensils, dishes, beds. In fact, everything but bedding. This furnished, if desired, at very little extra cost.

Comfort! Suites and rooms with or without private baths. Beautiful lounge. Magnificent view. SUNSET INN at Qualicum Beach is up to the minute in every respect.

Hotel On The Beach! Run down the front steps at THE ISLAND HALL HOTEL, Parksville, and you're right on the wide sandy beach. Grand for swimming and sunbathing. Safe for the smallest children.

Lodge or Family Cottages at SEAGIRT in East Sooke. Comfortable beds with new spring-filled mattresses. Excellent meals. Choice meats, farm produce, Jersey cream.

After the Show a Dance—Try the CAT 'N FIDDLE for that extra snack or for a real chicken dinner. Hamburgers, too—and foot-long hotdogs!

Picnic Grounds! At DON'S CAMP, Shawnigan Lake, you'll find all the facilities for a real outdoor picnic. Good fishing, too.

Stranger in Town? Stay at the DOMINION HOTEL. Good service, centrally located, modern in every way.

See KILMALU, Mill Bay, at this season of the year and you'll want to stay there forever. Delightful appointment. Delicious food. Beautiful view.

Something doing at GRANDVIEW AUTO CAMP at Qualicum every hour of the day. Good cabins and cottages. Sandy beach. Store, lunch counter and dance floor.

THE ROYAL OAK INN, with its real thatched roof and flagstoned terrace. Only 5 miles from Victoria. Frequent bus service right to the door.

Panorama! Unforgettable is the only word to describe the view from the many-windowed dining room at SOOKE HARBOUR HOUSE. Out across the Straits of Juan de Fuca to the snow-capped Olympic Mountains on the far horizon.

Just for the day! A splendid choice would be MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK. Tearoom right in grounds. Open fireplace. Cook a whole meal if you wish. Great place for children!

Mothers! This is for you! At Parksville, they tell me, there is no better place to take the family for vacation. The beach is so safe, the sandbar so wide, you can relax and rest while the children play. For accommodation I give you HARRISON'S BEACH CAMP.

Still, mirror-clear! From the windows and the quiet garden at SUMMERVILLE you gaze down on a stretch of water that looks like a mountain lake high in the Scottish hills. It's really Mill Bay.

Victoria Composer Praised For B.C. Marching Song

Congratulations are pouring in for John Rowland, 602 Superior Street, on his latest composition, British Columbia Marching Song. Copies of the song have been sent by the Department of Education to each school in the province.

Mr. Rowland was honored when the British Columbia Marching Song was twice selected to be played and sung over the CBC Songs of Empire program. Among the letters he has received was one from the City Council on the latter occasion expressing "their compliments and congratulations on the excellence of the words and music."

H. E. Winch, M.L.A., writes: "I can well understand your admiration for the province and can appreciate your desire to have its beauties put to music."

Other comments are: "I am sure it will make quite a hit wherever it is used." Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Trade and Industry.

"I know it will prove very popular." A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands.

"I appreciate that in your words you kept clear of sickly sentimental phrases." E. E. Winch, M.L.A.

Last year Mr. Rowland wrote the R.C.N. Marching Song which became Canada's official navy march. Navy Minister Angus Macdonald wrote: "I have your letter with which you enclosed copy of your composition together with Certificate of Copyright, which you have made out to the Naval Service of Canada."

"I may say that I think this is a very patriotic and generous gesture, indeed, and I am sure that the Navy Bands throughout Canada will play this number in the manner in which you would wish."

Cardin Expects 50 Quebec M.P.'s To Vote With Him

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD

OTTAWA.—As the momentous conscription debate gets under way in the House of Commons, the No. One Enigma to which everyone on Parliament Hill is seeking the answer is: "What will Cardin do?" Will he speak, as only he can, to his compatriots

in the House and—beyond them—to the whole of French-speaking

Canada? Will he seek to arouse French-speaking Canada, as only he today can, by an eloquence powerful because it flows directly from convictions conscientiously held, powerful because it is the product of one of the best minds that his race has contributed to Canadian public life since the days of Laurier—and powerful because it is tinged with the poetic imagery of the mature philosopher?

Will he, in short, weave anew

the spell of oneness between himself and his compatriots that it has been his peculiar genius to cast at almost innumerable general elections in the past?

Furthermore, and in more specific vein:

Will he move an amendment to the government's legislation?

Will he seek to delay it by tactics of planned obstruction?

How many Quebec M.P.'s does he think will vindicate his resignation from the Cabinet by voting against the government?

To all these questions Hon. Mr.

Cardin indicated his answer in an informal interview today with this correspondent.

DRAMATIC FIGURE

Easily the most dramatic figure that the present political crisis has produced, Mr. Cardin received the correspondent in a modest office that contrasted strikingly with the commodious suite he had occupied for some

18 years as a minister of the Crown. Simply, without the slightest tinge of extremist zeal, but rather with something of the detached manner of the democratic philosopher who has learned that movements are greater than individuals and that there is a logic of events that ultimately raises above human interference,

he indicated that:

(1) He will speak first among the opponents of the government's legislation, that he will speak in English and not in French, and that he will not speak from manuscript because it is "torture" for him to prepare one and, "anyway you do not influence an audience by delivering a set speech."

(2) He will not move an amendment to the legislation, but will content himself with voting against it.

(3) He does not expect a prolonged debate, because he has no intention of leading a campaign of obstruction, and the French-

Canadian speakers who will support him will probably not take more than five or ten minutes each—simply sufficient to set forth their attitudes.

(4) He believes that in excess of 50 Quebec M.P.'s will vote with him against the government.

QUEBEC NOT SEPARATE

In the brief discussion with which he surrounded these points

Mr. Cardin emphasized that he did not regard conscription as in any sense a subject upon which

Quebec was divided from English-speaking Canada. He was confident from the information he had received that had the plebiscite question been phrased: "Are you in favor of conscription?" the

"no" vote in English-speaking

Canada, while it might not have tables and other facilities to accommodate an increased number of visitors to the park will also be recommended.

Social and Personal

Mrs. George Walker, wife of the manager of the Qualicum Beach Hotel, Qualicum Beach, has gone to Vancouver to visit Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Belden after spending a few days in Victoria.

Miss Tephi Taylor, Fairfield Road, will leave for the mainland Sunday on her way to spend the next four months visiting relatives and friends in Toronto and Montreal.

Mrs. W. T. Barrett, "The Dorchester," Oak Bay, will leave at the weekend to visit her mother, Mrs. Regan, of London, Ont., and later with her son and daughter-in-law, Captain and Mrs. Desmond Barrett, of Ottawa. Mrs. Barrett expects to return to Victoria in October.

Mrs. J. Cox and her daughter, Miss Jean Cox, of Port Alice, are visiting Mrs. O. V. Dawkin, Savannah Avenue.

Mrs. I. D. Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Worth of Vancouver, who came to Victoria for the Worth-Robinson wedding, returned home this afternoon.

Miss Olive Ashton, whose marriage to Mr. Lorne B. Ross will take place July 1, was honored by a number of her friends Tuesday evening, the hostesses being Miss Lorna Fulton and Miss Wynne Hall. The bride-to-be was presented with a Kenwood blanket and a corsage bouquet of yellow roses and African daisies. Tea was served from a beautifully appointed supper table, centred with yellow roses and green tulle. The invited guests were Mesdames Y. McGregor, D. MacBeth, E. Honour, C. Davidson, M. Perry, F. Clark, J. Fulton and the Misses Barbara Lane, Leena Chemago, Jane Barter, Beverly Clark, Dorothy Payne, Nora Martin, Elsie Simpson, Pat Saunders, Mabel Hoffman, Ruth Shepherd and Kay Rendle.

Miss Dora Ferguson, whose marriage to Mr. Thomas Carson will take place Friday evening, was honored guest at a surprise miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred White, Edgeware Road. The gifts were concealed in a box decorated with red, white and blue drawn into the room by little Billy White who presented a corsage to the guest of honor. The evening was spent in playing games, after which a supper was served buffet style. The invited guests were Mesdames J. Campbell, T. F. Carson, J. McHattie, W. Butler, A. Ferguson, A. Power, T. Rhodes, R. Rodgers, T. Packford, B. Blake, S. Woods, R. Ferguson, T. Wallace, A. Shaw, H. McFadger and J. Logie, and the Misses K. Carson, I. Knowlton, E. Foxcroft, E. Wallace and N. Ferguson.

Miss Billie Murray, popular bride-elect, was tendered a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening by Mrs. G. J. Clarke and Miss Sylvia Petch at the latter's home, Montrose Avenue. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of gardenias and later with the many gifts which were contained in a traveling case done in pink and white. Supper was served from a lace-covered table centred with a large bowl filled with roses in various shades. The guests included Mesdames F. O. Murray, W. Rennie, A. Petch, J. W. Marsh, B. Bonner, J. Woods, W. Van Druten, A. McKeachie, J. Dunn, B. Elliott and the Misses Daphne Murray, Helen and Jean Elliott, Mary McKeachie, Peggy Whyte, Evelyn Taylor, Sheila McAllister, Nancy Kyle, Edith Gillies, Jean Broughton, Barbara Hutchison, Ruby Mae Brown, Frances Cullin, Mildred Smellie, Grace Stuart and Jean Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Reid of Mountain Park, Alberta, arrived in Victoria yesterday on their honeymoon and are visiting Mr. Reid's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Shaw, Superior Street. Mrs. Reid was formerly Miss Luelle Thomson of Winnipeg.

Miss M. I. Mackenzie and Miss Margaret Mackenzie, of New Westminster, after a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Dickinson, Linden Avenue, have returned to the mainland. Mr. and Mrs. Dickinson have staying with them, Mrs. Dickinson's sister, Mrs. I. M. Mackenzie, of New Westminster, formerly of Shanghai.

Mrs. William Plater, Old Esquimalt Road, was hostess Tuesday evening at her home in compliment to Miss Edna Coates, whose marriage will take place this month. The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Henry, and presented the honored guest with a lovely rose chennille bedspread on behalf of her many friends present. Red roses, white and blue delphiniums were used as decorations to carry out a patriotic color scheme. A corsage bouquet of red roses was presented to Miss Coates, and her mother, Mr. H. E. Coates, received Talsman roses. The gift was presented in a box decorated in red, white and blue and marked with the letters "R.C.N.V.R." in compliment to the groom-elect, P.O. Joseph C. Hagarty. Games were enjoyed during the evening, the winners being Mrs. A. E. Morgan, Sheila and Elaine Coates. Beautiful red roses in a silver bowl formed the centerpiece for the table from which a buffet supper was served. The hostesses were assisted by Mesdames Bjorn, Morgan, Couch, Russell and Misses R. and E. Coates. Guests included Mesdames A. E. Morgan, A. Coates, G. Williamson, I. Catterall, H. Bjorn, P. Brooks, W. H. Couch, D. Russell, Weeks, Bourne, P. Conroy, Thomas, Webster, M. McDonald, W. Henry, G. Morgan and the Misses Beryl and Sheila Coates, Kay Conroy, Ruth, Elaine and Doreen Coates.

Chinese Collection On View at Tea

A successful tea was held by the Major John Hebbden Gillespie Chapter, I.O.D.E., at the home of Mrs. F. W. G. Clark, 305 Denison Road, Wednesday afternoon. The guests were received by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. R. H. Spilsbury, first vice-regent, in the absence of Mrs. Peter Bell, regent.

Mrs. R. L. Green and Mrs. J. M. Green were general conveners. Tea arrangements were in the hands of Mrs. J. B. Speck, who was assisted by Mesdames Ian Douglas, E. W. Bassett, L. U. Conyers, J. F. Stokes, H. W. Sparks, Denis Hagar, J. D. Horne, A. D. Morris, G. C. Sanson, G. C. Parrot and C. Lahder. Mrs. Norman D'Arcy, assisted by girl guides of the second Victoria east company, was in charge of drawing of a beautiful Chinese cut-work tablecloth and napkins, which she donated.

Those pouring tea were Mrs. K. C. Symons, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Mrs. S. P. Moody and Mrs. J. H. Gillespie. Teacup reading was in charge of Mrs. Gordon Radcliff. Gail Webster, Diana Bradley and Murray McIntosh danced several charming numbers, accompanied by accordion music played by Raymond Clarke, who later entertained the guests with a solo. Miss Verna Wong entertained with selections on her Chinese harp.

Guests viewed Mrs. Clark's collection of exquisite Chinese ivories, screens and panels. All proceeds from the tea will be devoted to the chapter's war work and to equipping the I.O.D.E. air raid shelter in the Dominion Bank building.

Short Courtships Ended for Army

LONDON (AP)—The Canadian army overseas has moved to cut down lightning courtships between Canadian soldiers and British girls, and at the same time reduce the proportion of unhappy marriages.

Drawing attention to the fact 3,500 Canadian soldiers have married overseas since the first batch of Canadians reached Britain in this war, Canadian military headquarters pointed to the army "marriage order" passed last November.

It stipulates that private and non-commissioned officers must make provision for saving $200 before taking the vows and must also wait three months after receiving their commanding officer's permission to wed.

Also a factor lending to the framing of this order was the girl back home, said the authorities. Many overseas weddings done in haste have brought heart-break letters from the soldiers' girls waiting in Canada.

Pendray, Light refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Walsh and her committee.

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH a record daily double payoff at Winnipeg of over $4,000 and carloads of bangtails arriving or shipping for Vancouver, we are reminded another British Columbia racing season will be on us June 27. With difficulties between the racing moguls and owners having ironed themselves out, when federal authorities ordered all mainland meets be held at Hastings Park, the forthcoming season promises to be one of the most successful in years. Tracks south of the border report a boom in business and the same will likely hold true in B.C.

From what we have heard, the same crew of officials will work the races this season, with Dr. McKeon again in the driver's seat as presiding judge. Earle Lewis will be in charge of the jockeys, with Clay Puett handling the starters' duties. Victoria-born Jack Short will be in charge of the public address, calling the races for the benefit of the punters.

And looking over some of the horses slated to run on Vancouver and Victoria tracks, we notice a lot of familiar names. Al Torey's stable will be running with Lee Somers, Eagle Crest, Nonie Lester and Cedo. Dave Elander will be along with his old favorites, Hi Ginny and Camp Spur. Major Goodsell will campaign again with Rosworth, Hadamick and Mere.

No doubt all the familiar jockeys will be here again. Looking over recent Winnipeg results we note where such well-known riders as Augie Sylvester, Jackie Haller, Bobby Summers, Russell, Young and Ike Bassett are doing right well for themselves. Earle Lewis will leave for Winnipeg shortly to sign up majority of these boys for the B.C. season.

Notice where stocky little Rann Mathison plans to turn out as a lacrosse referee on the mainland. Mathison was one of the finest lacrosse and basketball players ever turned out in New Westminster. As a matter of fact, he is still a great little basketball guard, but has hung up his lacrosse togs for good. Mathison was captain and player of the Varsity, Westerns and Maple Leafs when they copped the Canadian cage title and also guided the Adanacs when they copped the national boxla crown from St. Catherine's.

Mathison boasts a great knowledge of the game and is no doubt familiar with all the play-ers, but does he know the fans? Pudgy Rann may have figured to have taken some verbal blastings and Bronx cheers as a player, but he hasn't heard nothing to take if mainland boxla crowds are anything like Victoria turnouts. And from all reports boxla crowds are the same, whether it be in Victoria or Zanzibar.

With summer here (according to the calendar and not by the temperature) Victorians will be taking-up with their swimming and boating pleasures again. With the object of trying to lower last year's heavy toll of fatalities, Robert E. Lavagna, president of the National Physical Education Society of the Y.M.C.A., issues the following warnings and tips:

1. After the winter lay-off take your swimming in easy doses. You may not be as good as you used to be.
2. Don't take foolish chances. Many fatal accidents result from horseplay in deep water.
3. Walk out and swim in. That way you'll never get beyond your depth.
4. Don't swim alone. Always have a water-buddy, preferably a swimmer stronger than you are.
5. Swim only at a supervised beach or pool.
6. Don't go in the water soon after a meal.
7. Don't dive until you're sure how deep the water is. The other fellow may not need as much as you.
8. It's not brave to give or take a dare. It's downright silly.
9. Stay out of canoes and row-boats if you can't swim. If a boat turns over while you're in it, cling to it for support.
10. Learn artificial respiration. It may mean the difference between saving a life and losing one.
11. If you can reach a person in trouble with a pole, belt or towel, do so. It's more sensible than jumping in.
12. In making a rescue, use a boat if possible. It's safer than swimming.

Services After Ball Win

Cochrane Names Stars

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lieut. Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, manager of the Service All-Stars, has chosen 13 soldiers and 10 sailors to make up his team for the benefit game at Cleveland July 7 against the winner of the annual American League—National League All-Star contest.

Furthermore, Manager Mickey is serious about winning the Cleveland classic. He has asked that his players be relieved of their military duties in time to report to him at the Great Lakes naval training station 10 days before the game for hard practice. It is a powerful squad that Cochrane has picked, comprising the cream of big league talent that has answered the colors—Bob Feller, Hank Greenberg, Cecil Travis, Don Padgett, Johnny Rigney and the others.

As his coaches Cochrane named Hank Gowdy of the Cincinnati Reds and George Earnshaw, former great pitcher with the Philadelphia Athletics and other clubs, now in the navy.

GETS CO-OPERATION

If they still are within reach, all the players Mickey asked for will report to him on the date requested. The military wants to win this game as much as Cochrane does. Pitcher Mickey Harris, formerly with the Boston Red Sox, will be flown up from the canal zone, and clearance will be granted every other player as soon as possible.

Greenberg, who drew the game's top salary of $32,500 a year before entering the army, has been listed as an infielder by Cochrane, and probably will be stationed on first base in the benefit game. He played left field his last two seasons with the Tigers and helped club them to the American League flag in 1940.

Cochrane included another first baseman on his roster, Johnny Sturm of the New York Yankees, but it is doubtful that Sturm will break into the line-up. Since joining the army he lost a finger in a training accident.

King's Horses Both Favorites

LONDON (CP)—The King's two outstanding performers, Big Game and Sun Chariot, Wednesday were named among the favorites for the English racing season's major events, the Oaks Friday and the Derby Saturday.

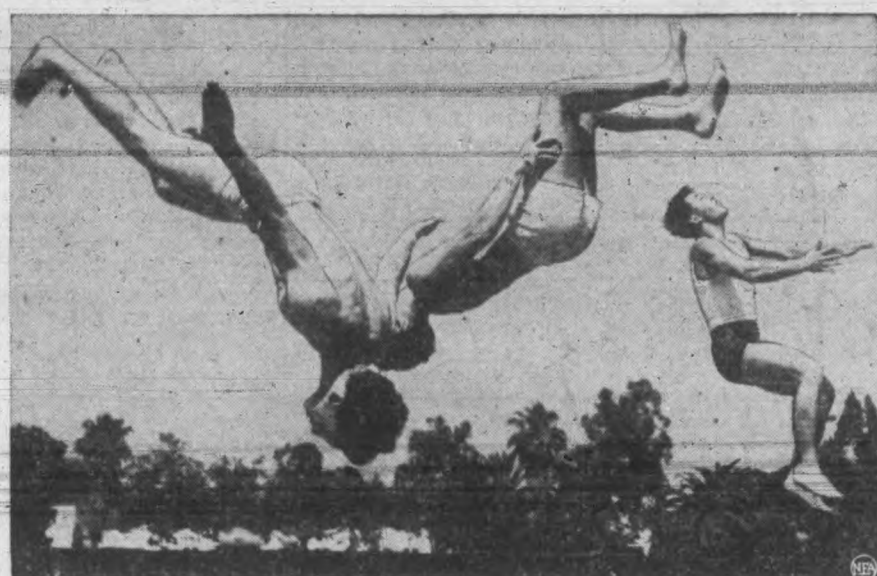

Both are entered in the Derby, although Sun Chariot probably will not start. Only Sun Chariot is entered in the Oaks.

Derby entries with jockeys and probable odds: Big Game, Gordon Richards, 6-5; Hyperides, E. Smith, 9-2; Watling Street, Harry Wragg, 11-2; Ujiji, Cliff Richards, 10-8; Gold Nib, R. Jones, 18-1; Shapoor, M. Beary, 20-1; Sun Chariot, jockey undecided, 20-1; Hasty Shot, W. Nevett, 25-1; Tribonian, S. Wragg, 28-1; Canonero, T. Carey, 33-1; Solway, S. Ellis, 45-1; Argon, F. Lane, 100-1; Seaside, G. Walsh, 100-1; and Cavendish, K. Mullings, 200-1. Entries for the Oaks with jockeys: Sun Chariot, Gordon Richards; Cheerful Anne, G. Bridgland; Treasure from Heaven, C. Richards and Light of Day, H. Wragg; Pay Roll, S. Ellis; Perfect Peace, R. A. Jones; Febration, T. H. Carey; Silver Heels, jockey undecided; Valiant, jockey undecided; Sonibai, D. Smith; Eleanor Cross, M. Bejry; East Glen, W. Nevett; Gleanings, J. Kirby; Afterthought, E. Smith.

NANAIMO—A fatal accident occurred at No. 10 Mine, South Wellington, Wednesday, when Adam Watson, 27, was reported to have been struck by a piece of timber when a mine car was derailed.

Watson was well known in local sports circles and was a member of the Nanaimo City football team and of the Reserve lacrosse team. Besides his mother, residing here, he is survived by his sister, Mrs. Roberts, Nanaimo, and one brother, James, now serving with the army overseas.

Tumblers at Pasadena, Calif., Junior College make spectacular aerial jaunts as part of physical fitness for Victory program.

Fairaris Runs In Second Spot

NEW YORK (AP)—The Threatened fireworks Fairaris was supposed to pack in the three-year-old racing whirl didn't give Alsab and Shut Out anything in particular to worry about Wednesday.

The "English refugee" who was imported by R. C. McLaughlin, Oshawa, Ont., motor magazine, and equalled the track record at Belmont in his last outing, wound up a well-beaten second in the 15th running of the Shevlin stakes—three full lengths behind Mrs. Ethel V. Mars' Chicago-owned Dogpatch, a high-priced yearling of a couple of years ago.

To give him his due, Fairaris had tough luck wrapped up for him in this mile and a sixteenth three-year-old fixture. He was bumped in a tangle going to the first turn, was shut off by W. W. Crenshaw's Zaca Rosa in the backstretch and was carried wide around the stretch run. But, despite his rough trip, he was in front going into the stretch and just didn't have enough to stall off Dogpatch's closing rush.

Although Fairaris was backed down 3 to 10 in the betting by the 14,761 customers, he didn't show anything like his usual speed in beating William Woodward's Trierarch by two lengths for the place. Alf Vanderbilt's Rascal was fourth.

Spencers Capture Wednesday Cricket

With Percy Shrimpton and Jimmy Oakman putting on a first wicket stand that was good for 81 runs, Spencers defeated the Army in a Wednesday afternoon cricket match 96 to 87.

Shrimpton carried his bat for 43 runs before being bowled by Gibbons while Oakland scored 38 not out. Remainder of the side went out cheaply.

Gibbons contributed a smart 54 for the Army to finally be stamped by Shrimpton off Fletcher's bowling. Williams put on 27 for the soldiers.

Gibbons had the best bowling average with four wickets for 21 runs.

Don't be the missing man.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

Castilloux May Fight

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO (CP)—It appears that not many people believed Dave Castilloux when he announced from the midst of R.C.A.F. training last week that he was retiring from the ring and vacating his Canadian lightweight and welterweight championships . . . Montrealeers are talking now of a big benefit fight show in mid-July with Castilloux meeting Sammy Angott (world lightweight titlist), Harry Hurst vs. Boom Boom Mahcini (wonder what his mother calls him?), Maxie Berger vs. A. N. Other (an all-round athlete) and Sammy Jacobs vs. Angelo Callura.

Probably the oldest active thoroughbred on first-class Canadian track is 13-year-old Lorraine S. who placed the other day at Thorncliffe in Toronto . . . Brooms Sentry, the Canadian Derby candidate, is by Brooms, as snapshots has been told frequently since crediting (by some freak reasoning) this fine thoroughbred to Cudel . . .

Eddie (Winnipeg Free Press) Armstrong recalls that Elliott Little, director of National Selective Service, was one of the best amateur baseball pitchers in

Doc Cramer in Spotlight

Hits Reach 2,001 Mark

Step by step the present-stars of the major leagues are finding their way into the hallowed company of baseball's old-time all-time standouts.

The latest to earn a place on the permanent honor roll of the game is Roger (Doc) Cramer, Detroit Tigers' outfielder, who made three hits against New York Yankees Wednesday to lift his lifetime total to 2,001, a level that has been reached by only seven other players still active in the major leagues.

Dick Bartell of New York Giants entered the 2,000-hit class in April and Mel Ott, Paul and Lloyd Waner, Jimmy Foxx, Joe Cronin and Charley Gehringer already were there. Joe Medwick and Billy Herman of Brooklyn have a good chance of qualifying near the end of the season.

Cramer's achievement in his 14th year in the American League called attention again to Paul (Big Poison) Waner, who in his 17th season needs only six hits to total 3,000. Including Cramer, just 77 batters in the history of the major leagues have passed 2,000 hits. But only six have reached Waner's goal. Everyone that made it now is memorialized in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.: Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner, Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie and Cap Anson.

HOMERS DECIDE

The three hits by Cramer were important individually, but they had nothing to do with the Tigers beating the world champions 4 to 1. The blows that counted in that battle were a homer in the fifth by Jim Bloodworth and another by Ned Harris with two on in the 11th inning.

Boston Red Sox remained in second place in the junior circuit with a 10 to 3 triumph over St. Louis Browns. Mike Chartak, playing his first game for St. Louis since being traded by Washington, provided all the Brownie tallies with a three-run homer in the third.

Philadelphia Athletics went back into the American League cellar and the Chicago White Sox crawled out as the Sox handed the A's a 4 to 1 defeat.

Cleveland Indians won their second extra-inning game in a row in a floodlight contest with Washington Senators, taking the verdict 4 to 3 in 11 innings.

The important St. Louis-Brooklyn series which was expected to settle the National League leadership was postponed for the second day in a row.

The New York Giants moved up to a third-place tie in the National with Cincinnati Reds as they handed the Cincy crew a 6 to 1 setback in a night game. It was the fifth time in a row the New Yorkers have beaten the Reds.

Rip Sewell provided Pittsburgh Pirates with their sixth straight win, this one at the expense of Boston Braves, 3 to 0. Rip shut out the Braves with four hits and clinched the game in the eighth by doubling with the sacks loaded and driving in two runs. The score was 1 to 0 at that point. In this game, played under floodlights, Paul Waner got one of the six hits he needs to bring his lifetime total to 3,000.

The only day game in the National League found Chicago Cubs break out with a five-hit attack in the seventh inning to beat Philadelphia Phils 5 to 2.

COAST LEAGUE

Hank Mintzner, Portland third sacker, was a star player of Coast League baseball Wednesday night although he did nothing exceptional on the hot corner and got but one hit in seven attempts.

But that one hit was a homer that came at the start of the 15th inning at Hollywood and gave the Beavers a 5 to 4 win over the Twinks.

Seattle disappointed San Francisco fans by halting the Seals' climb into the upper division with a 5 to 0 shutout.

Hal Turpin, veteran Rainier chucker, turned out a six-hit performance as Rainier batsfmen routed Tom Seals for 12 hits and all five runs before Ray Harrell took over in the eighth to hold the Rainiers to an additional safety.

Los Angeles blanked Sacramento 3 to 0 in the second straight win before Solon fans. San Diego capitalized on Sacramento's loss and moved into second place behind the league-leading Angels after thumping Oakland 5 to 1.

Young Bill Prior Hurls Pitzer-Nex to Fine Win

Art Willoughby Flying Victim

VANCOUVER (CP)—P.O. Arthur (Art) Willoughby, 27-year-old Vancouver athlete renowned from coast to coast as a basketball player, was killed Tuesday night in a flying accident at Rivers, Man., his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Willoughby were advised officially Wednesday. No details of the accident were given.

Member of three Canadian championship basketball teams and also a star English and Canadian rugby player, Willoughby joined the Royal Canadian Air Force last year. He received his initial training at Brandon, Man.,

LATE P.O. ART WILLOUGHBY

Regina, Sask., and a station here before receiving his wings at Yorkton, Sask., last April 24.

Born and educated in Vancouver, he was a graduate of the University of British Columbia. He was the only man to score a try-against Stanford University when they played U.B.C. on a snow-covered English rugby field Christmas Day, 1936. Willoughby also played with three English rugby "rep" teams.

He performed with U.B.C. Thunderbirds, Westerns and Maple Leafs when they brought the Canadian basketball championship to Vancouver in 1936, 1937 and 1940 respectively. He toured Japan with Westerns in 1939.

He was an only child.

The second round was being played today.

Mrs. Charlie High, Gorge Vale, was the low net scorer with a 77. Mrs. E. Jackson, Uplands, defending champion, was four strokes off the leader with a 85, while Mary Young, another strong Uplands contender, had 101.

With a high wind sweeping the course the scores were higher than usual.

Allows Three Safeties to Whip Navy

Nineteen-year-old Bill Prior hurls his first win in senior baseball, Wednesday night, as he limited Royal Canadian Navy sluggers to three hits and a close 4 to 3 victory for Pitzer and Nex.

The youngster turned in a smart exhibition as he struck out seven and walked four. Although he got himself into a couple of bad holes, Prior held the bluejackets scoreless for seven of the nine innings.

Game developed into a pitching duel between Prior and Stan Davies, another right-hander. For five innings Davies allowed one lone hit, and in the first three innings struck out five of the nine batters to face him. However, the Navy hurler ran into a streak of wildness in the last four innings, and four wild pitches played an important part in his defeat. It was a wild heave to first base in the sixth by Davies that gave Pitzer and Nex their first two runs.

Davies struck out 11 and issued four walks. Each club was chalked up with three errors.

For five innings the clubs played bang-up baseball with a series of goose-eggs being placed on the scoreboard. In the fifth the Navy got the first runner to second base, but he died there. The same held true for Stratton of Pitzer and Nex in the last of the fifth.

Navy opened the scoring with an unearned run in the first of the sixth. Davies got a life at first when second baseman Barnswell juggled his daisy-cutter, stole second and went to third on a passed ball. McElroy walked and the Pitzer and Nex management decided to purposely pass Yaroslowski to fill the bases. Prior worked the count to three and two, then walked Byers, forcing home Davies with the first run. Keith forced Byers at second for the third out.

FOUR-RUN RALLY

Pitzer and Nex came back with a four-run scoring spree in their half of the inning. Harper opened the inning with a walk. Barnes lined a single over the shortstop's head. Garnet bunted down the first base line and Davies threw wild to the base, allowing Harper and Barnes to race home, and sending Garnet to second. Barnswell laced a single over the first sacker's head, sending Garnet across the plate. Barnswell completed the circuit himself, scoring on a wild pitch by Davies.

Navy came back with a pair of runs in the seventh. Thompson beat out a bunt and advanced to second on Prior's bad throw to first in a useless effort to make the putout. Woodward beat out a hit to deep short, Thompson going to third and scoring on a double steal. Woodward reached third on a fielder's choice and scored on a passed ball at the plate.

Pitzer and Nex loaded the sacks with two away in the seventh on a fielder's choice and two walks, but Murray flied out to retire the side. Navy threatened in the ninth when Keith started off with a walk, and Thompson was safe on Walsh's error on a bunt. In attempting to sacrifice the runners along, Woodward popped to catcher Nex, the veteran playing-manager making a neat catch. Abercrombie fanned the air and Davies lifted to Murray to end the game.

Friday night's game will see the league-leading Victoria Machinery Depot meet up with the Eagles, starting at 6:30.

Tiremen Play Bays Tonight

Having put the skids under the second-place Jokers in convincing manner, Gus Munroe, alias Chief Gussie, takes his Douglas Tire lads out to the Sports Centre tonight to give the same treatment to Ted Menzies' James Bay crew.

Gus just oozes confidence. Following that 23 to 9 victory over the blackshirts the chief figures his team is capable of taking any squad in Victoria. He will have his paleface-redskin mixture on the floor again tonight and is expecting great things from the combination. The Indians have noticeably improved every time out.

Bays will be minus the services of Austin Cullin, Wes Manson and Ritchie Nicol. Menzies, however, has plugged the gaps thoroughly, wanting no repetition of the defeat handed his lads by Oaks last week.

In fact, everything points to a nice, close battle that shouldn't be any tea party. Game time is 8:30. Fletcher's Men's Shop and James Bay midges play in the preliminary at 7.

James Bay line-up follows: Long, McKeachie, Woodhouse, Ball, Anderson, McCorkall, Duncan, Davies, Thomas, Fraser, Costello, Ferguson, Macaulay, Brown and Travis.

Boeing's Victors, Oppose V.M.D.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Boeing qualified to meet Victoria Machinery Depot in Saturday's final for the Province Cup when they beat St. Andrews 2 to 1 in a soccer game here Wednesday night.

In the scoreless first half St. Andrews had the best of the play, although Boeings came close to scoring when Mike Wilkinson hit the crossbar with a terrific shot that had Newbeld in the Scots net beaten.

Three minutes after the interval Frank Ambler veered over to right wing, tricked two Scot defenders and scored from an almost impossible angle. A half hour later Alex Scott centred for Johnny Robinson, who drove home Boeings second goal.

Eight minutes from time a slip by Boeings goalie, George Steele, gave the Scots their lone tally. Scott dropped a Scot drive, then fell on the ball, but John Masintosh drove it from under him and into the net.

SOFTBALL RESULTS

Backing pitcher Joe Bryant to the hilt, Palm Dairies trounced New Method Laundry 15 to 6 in a C section softball game at Central Park, Wednesday night.

Joe struck out 16 men and led the dairy batters with five base hits to stand out as the star of the night.

In another C section battle Northwestern Creamery beat K.V.'s 11 to 7. The creamery broke a 5 to 5 tie in the sixth inning to march home with the bacon.

Coach and Horses play Douglas Tire in tonight's only game. It is billed for 6:45 at Athletic Park.

BABY'S TEETHING UPSETS QUICKLY CHECKED

When a baby starts teething, it's a mother's worst nightmare. But need not get a fever with it—Baby's Own Tablets. Here's what one wise mother, Mrs. Archie Begbie, of Coonocan, has to say: "We have not lost one night's rest through teething as I always use my old standby, Baby's Own Tablets. They are worth their weight in gold." And Mrs. B. A. Selene, of Galt, Ont., says: "I have given Baby's Own Tablets to my baby girl since she was three weeks old, although she cut her teeth rapidly (all four molars at once) she has never yet wakened up at night. I would not be without these tablets." Give these safe, sweet-tasting tablets at the first sign of teething fever. Easy to take, prompt in action, yet safe. Baby's Own Tablets in every package. Also effective in Constipation, Stomach Discomfort, Upset Stomach, Colic, Simple Croup and Febrile States. Get a box today. Sick babies to often strike in the night. 25 cents. Money back if you are not satisfied.

to use boxes except for shipment by common carrier while bags for suits or medium dark wools may be only 36 inches in size and where possible one bag must be used for several garments. Bags of different sizes now on hand may be used up. For garments other than wools and suits, paper bags 50 inches in size must be used. Coat hangers and hat boxes may be used but must be retained by the driver on delivering goods and if safety pins are used to secure the garments they must also be removed.
The order takes effect immediately.
Don't be the missing man.

Radio Manufacturers Elect Officers

E. C. Grimley, president of the R.C.A. Victor Co. Ltd., Montreal, has been elected president of the Radio Manufacturers' Association for a second term. Arthur Young, president of Stewart Warner, Alemit Corporation, Belleville, has been also re-elected as vice-president of the association.
In his annual report to the Radio Manufacturers' Association, president E. C. Grimley stated to the members that never in the history of the industry had so many acts by the government and events taken place which so affected their business, as in the year just closed.

He also pointed out that by having a well-organized and experienced association, the manufacturers were able, through their appointed representatives, to give the government prompt and intelligent information and co-operation on various orders issued.

Mr. Grimley also further described the diminished rate of production of radio sets which had been going on since last year, and that a few of the companies were clearing up materials in process, and in a very short time, all home radio set production would be finished for the duration.

Tremendous progress has been made in the member companies taking on important war work. These member companies of the Radio Manufacturers' Association are not only producing the radio communication equipment needed by the government and some of its Allies, but are also turning out materials of wide variation and uses.

Princess Alice Recalls War Days

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP)—Princess Alice had nostalgic memories this afternoon.

She drove through the heat to the Dominion Experimental Farm and there, in temporary building No. 5, had lunch in the cool Red Cross canteen with between 300 and 400 war office workers.

And that meal—simple, nutritious and cheap—took Her Royal Highness back a quarter century.

"I worked in a canteen much like this for four years during the last war," she told Mrs. Donald Gordon, director of the canteen. "I washed dishes, peeled potatoes and enjoyed every minute of it."

As she looked around at the young girls in their bright cotton dresses, digging enthusiastically into large plates of salad or appetizing chicken pie, she expressed her satisfaction.

"This is certainly much better for these girls than eating a hot dog or a sandwich out of a paper bag at their desks," she commented.

O.K. Coal Control

LONDON (CP)—The House of Commons approved today the government's plan to institute public control of coal mines and, if necessary, to ration fuel to ease the crisis caused by falling production and mounting consumption. The vote was 329 to 8.

Gwilym Lloyd George, son of the former Prime Minister, was sworn in, meanwhile, as minister of fuel, and immediately embarked on conferences with miners and mine owners.

To Celebrate Flag Day

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will celebrate United Nations flag day July 4, it is announced here. Similar celebrations will be held in the United States and the United Kingdom June 14.

The United States customarily celebrates Flag Day June 14, and when this year it was extended to the flags of all United Nations, the United Kingdom decided to hold a similar celebration the same day.

Jap. Evacuation

OTTAWA (CP)—Austin C. Taylor, chairman of the B.C. Security Commission, who asked to be relieved of his duties at the end of this month, has consented to carry on until Aug. 1, Labor Minister Mitchell told the Canadian Press today.

Provision of accommodation has delayed transfer of some of the Japanese from British Columbia, but movements will be completed shortly, Mr. Mitchell said.

Mr. Taylor, who is also vice-president of Maritime Merchant Shipping Ltd., asked to be released from the security commission position when the Japanese movement was complete in order that he might undertake other war work.

Don't be the missing man.

TOWN TOPICS

Ten motorists were fined $2.50 each in police court today on parking convictions.

A meeting of the central executive of the Victoria Provincial Conservative Association will be held Friday night in Conservative rooms.

The claim of the National Construction & Fixture Co. Ltd. for $341 allegedly due for extras supplied in a contract to the Olympia Cafe, was argued before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court here, Wednesday and will be resumed Monday. Defendants, Peter and Thomas Rapanos, counterclaim on the charge work was improperly done.

The body of a sea lion, which James Bay residents estimated weighed 800 pounds, was washed ashore close to the breakwater about noon Wednesday. Mrs. L. Karagianis, 320 Dallas Road, reported she saw the carcass float in, at first thinking it was a human body. She said the skin of the animal had been burnt but she had no idea how it could have happened.

Mennonites Scattered In Island Camps

Mennonite firefighters from the prairie provinces are now scattered the length and breadth of Vancouver Island and are in many other parts of the province as well, officials of the B.C. forestry department said today.

The farthest north island station is at Menzies Bay. The men are divided into camps of between 20 and 25 men each and are doing satisfactory work.

There are more Mennonites on the way to B.C. and they will arrive shortly. There are about 266 Mennonites at present in the province for firefighting duties. Unusual wet weather of recent weeks is no guarantee the fire season will be less risky next month than usual in July.

"We never know from day to day what it will be like," an official said. "A few hot days and a forest dries out, even after a week of drenching rain."

Joins R.C.A.F.

NANAIMO—Miss Ruby Partington, Nanaimo, school teacher, who has been accepted by the meteorological department of the R.C.A.F., was granted leave of absence from her school at a meeting of the Nanaimo board of school trustees Wednesday. Miss Partington will leave soon for study at Ottawa.

A program of high school graduation exercises which includes a dinner, dancing, bowling, hike to Departure Bay and an address by Miss Rossiter, matron of the Nanaimo Military Hospital, was endorsed by the school board. The program was presented by Trustee Ratel for the students' council.

The board referred to the finance committee a request from the Departure Bay school board for a reduction in school fees for pupils of the district attending city schools.

2 Tag Days in Duncan

DUNCAN—Duncan City Council Tuesday granted permission to the Chinese National Salvation Bureau to hold a tag day in Duncan June 20, and to the W.A. of the Cowichan Hospital Association to hold a tag day Sept. 8.

P. R. Newham was appointed assistant city clerk and collector, milk inspector and building inspector. He will receive $100 a month.

The newly-constructed chlorination plant connected to city water supply is now in operation the health committee reported. The provincial health department will be asked to test the system.

The meeting was attended by the Scoutmaster of the Quamichan Troop and eight scouts who took a keen interest in the proceedings.

City Council Meets Friday

The regular meeting of the City Council was called for Friday at 3 by Mayor McGavin today as he made arrangements for the session to avoid conflict with the annual luncheon tendered the mayor and aldermen by the Lieutenant-Governor. That function will be held Monday, the usual meeting day.

The council session will follow a meeting of the war emergency committee during which proposals for extended fire-fighting service will be considered.

On file for the council meeting is a letter from the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. stating it has secured approval from the B.C. fire marshal for installation of fuel oil tanks at its gas works. The approval is subject to authorization by the council.

Coldwell Urges Income Ceiling

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. House leader, called in the Commons this afternoon for "total war for everything and not only for human life" and outlined again the six-point program his party describes as "essential to an all-out war effort and to any policy approaching equality of sacrifice."

One of the proposals is the establishment of maximum and minimum incomes, with the lowest $750 and the highest between $12,000 and $15,000 a year, and a 100 per cent excess profits tax.

Mr. Coldwell spoke during debate on the government's Bill 80 the amendment to the National Resources Mobilization Act which would permit the government to impose conscription for overseas service by Order-in-Council.

ALL-OUT EFFORT

He moved an amendment to the bill aimed at "a policy which would utilize every resource for victory, would plan war production with a view to achieving the greatest possible output without any regard for private interests, and which would provide a minimum standard of living and scheme of social security for all our people."

"Such a policy," he said, "would inspire our people with a vision of the new world for which they are fighting this war."

Following are the half-dozen proposals he advanced in the House last Jan. 26 and which he repeated today:

1. "Nationalization of financial institutions so that, without inflation or accumulating debt we can finance our war effort;

2. "Compulsory interest-free loans, levied according to ability to contribute, as one of the means of war financing;

3. "Government ownership or complete control of all essential war industries, so that every plant can take its place as a unit in a comprehensive national plan of war production;

4. "Replacing all dollar-a-year men by full-time national administrators paid only by the state and working in conjunction with war boards on which labor and farm organizations are properly represented;

5. "A 100 per cent tax on all profits in excess of 4 per cent on capital actually invested, as in Australia;

6. "The establishment of a fair maximum and minimum income; a steeply-graduated tax on incomes between the minimum and maximum and a 100 per cent tax on all incomes above the maximum."

6 Months for Theft

James Gray was sentenced to six months hard labor by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city court today, when convicted of stealing a kit bag, the property of Louis J. McCorkill, a soldier, on the early morning of June 7.

McCorkill said the kit bag was stolen from his car Sunday morning after he had parked it outside his home on Mason street. Gray, who said he had been drinking, told the court that he had picked it up on the boulevard on Quadra street and was about to take it to the police station, when two policemen, Constables Tom Stevenson and Joseph Kelly, arrested him at the place where he claimed he had found it.

Gray is seeking damages for an alleged 15 days' delay in releasing him from jail after a previous conviction of breaking and entering, March 2, had been quashed by the Court of Appeal.

He alleged that his appeal had been allowed April 17, and because the judgment was not entered and delivered immediately he was not released until May 2.

Don't be the missing man.

'When Volunteering Fails Conscription Will Come'

WINNIPEG—Winnipeg Free Press today says editorially:

"Mr. King has made it admirably clear that the proposed amendment to the National Resources Mobilization Act would implement the will of the people as expressed in the plebiscite and that the debate which he has now opened would constitute a final parliamentary settlement of the conscription issue in Canada. Beyond this it was unreasonable to expect him to go. The amendment will be passed by a large majority and it will be taken for granted that, as and when the voluntary system of overseas enlistment fails or lags, use will be made of the new powers which Parliament will shortly give the government."

"The speech will be a disappointment to the ardent conscriptionists in Canada, but, in order to keep the record straight, it may be pointed out to them that they have consistently allowed themselves to be led by persons whose chief claim to distinction has been their complete lack of faith in the honesty or good intent of Mr. King and his cabinet. These persons, ever since the outbreak of war, have refused to believe that the Prime Minister and his colleagues ever had it in mind to build up in this country a full scale war effort. Their criticisms have been built, almost without exception, upon their conviction that the government wanted to wage phony war, that its members did not have their hearts in the job; and that their chief concern was to protect the seats held by the Liberal party in Quebec. They have held to this view with a persistence that does credit only to their obstinacy and blindness."

"Mr. King's statement that conscription may never be necessary means nothing. If, by a miracle, the war ended tomorrow, conscription would not be necessary. If it ended next month it would not be necessary. If Germany were smashed before the end of this year it would be, perhaps, superfluous. But, if we go on the only safe assumption—that the war is likely still to last a very long time, conscription will certainly be needed. The word to emphasize in Mr. King's sentence is 'may,' and we can now surely take for granted that he means what he says, namely, that when the voluntary system fails, the government will impose the necessary measures to keep our armed forces up to full strength."

He moved an amendment to the bill aimed at "a policy which would utilize every resource for victory, would plan war production with a view to achieving the greatest possible output without any regard for private interests, and which would provide a minimum standard of living and scheme of social security for all our people."

"Such a policy," he said, "would inspire our people with a vision of the new world for which they are fighting this war."

Justin Gilbert Honored by Bar

The Victoria Bar Association, headed by its president, Carew Martin, K.C., today honored Justin Gilbert, who retired at the end of last month after 50 years' service as official court reporter.

Members of the legal profession crowded the Supreme Court room for the event and heard Mr. Martin extend to Mr. Gilbert the association's thanks for the kindness and courtesy he had always shown its members. Mr. Martin paid tribute to the outstanding ability of the veteran official, adding: "We do not wish you to retire without expressing in some tangible form our appreciation for your services."

It had taken the form of a gift of money to permit him to choose something of use and enjoyment to him, Mr. Martin said. With that he made the presentation to Mr. Gilbert, remarking on the great tradition he had established for his successor.

W. H. M. Haldane, vice-president, supported the remarks of Mr. Martin and spoke of the justifiable pride Mr. Gilbert must feel in having transcribed argument for some of the great figures in British Columbia and Canadian legal practice, including Bodwell, Mayers, Jack Taylor and E. P. Davis.

Harry Davis, former secretary of the association, referred to Mr. Gilbert's distinction in the musical world as the maker of violins which had achieved high repute both on this continent and in Europe.

A. D. Crease, K.C. paid tribute to the retired official as an inventor, mentioning specifically the wooden bicycle he had created.

Mr. Gilbert, taking advantage of his "first opportunity to address the bar," thanked the assembly for the honor it had done him and the presentation that had been made. He voiced pride in his association with the court since the days of Sir Matthew Baillie Begbie and declared the legal profession the most liberal-minded, most forgiving and best-reasoning group in the world.

Well-known Victorian Dies in Ireland

Mrs. Mary McD. Parr, widow of Maj. W. R. McD. Parr, died June 4 in Ireland. It was learned in Victoria Wednesday. Mrs. Parr was well known in Victoria having come here from Hongkong about 15 years ago, living first on Lampson Street, Esquimalt, and later at "Kildoon," West Saanich Road.

A keen worker for the W.A. of St. Stephen's and St. Mary's Anglican Church. She was also a member of the Women's Institute.

Mrs. Parr went to Ireland in June, 1940, to visit her mother, Mrs. White-Bell, widow of Canon White-Bell, expecting to return to Victoria, but with the spread of war to Britain, she decided to remain.

She is survived by three sons, Ronald R. McD. Parr, who is serving with the Australian forces in the Middle East; Pat Parr, with the P.P.C.L.I. overseas, and Alec Parr, R.C.N.V.R., now in Halifax, and three grandchildren.

Dorothy Dix:

Give Husband His Freedom If He Is Tired of Marriage

Dear Dorothy Dix: For 15 years I have been married to the dearest man on earth. We have a son, 10. We have never had any trouble of any kind whatever and have been unusually congenial. We are both in our thirties.

Suddenly, out of a clear sky, my husband tells me he doesn't know what has come over him, but he is tired of being married. Doesn't love me any more. Has no desire to come home at all. He says he is sorry about it and will provide for me, or go on and we will try to stick together to see if he can get over this feeling. But I can't see myself living with a man who doesn't want me. I don't believe there is any "Other Woman".

Do all men feel this way at some time? And is mine just being honest enough to tell me? What shall I do about it?

ANN.

Answer: Undoubtedly a great many men do revolt against domesticity when they get along toward middle age. They are fed up with marriage. They are tired of punching the home time clock. Tired of looking at the same face across the breakfast table every morning. Tired of eating the same food. Tired of their children's chatter. Home suddenly has become a prison to them and they have an almost irresistible desire to break out of it. They want to be free, to escape from all their responsibilities.

Women have this same feeling, too. I don't suppose there is a middle-aged woman in the world, no matter how much she loves her husband or her children, who doesn't have moments when she is dead tired of them both; who doesn't feel that she can't stand being tied down by the baby another day, and that she will scream if she has to decide another time whether to have boiled mutton or roast beef for dinner.

It is some primeval instinct in us all that makes the monotony of everyday living get on our nerves, and makes us all want to run wild.

THE MOOD WILL PASS

Fortunately, most of us have enough common sense to know it is a mood that will pass, and enough self-control not to follow our impulse to kick over our homes. Our Guardian Angel keeps us from telling our mates about how we feel and thereby forever wrecking their confidence in us and implanting suspicion in their minds that they never get over. And so we keep on doing business at the old stand.

Just try to realize that your husband is going through this emotional upset and don't take him too seriously. Don't pack up and start for Reno. Play for time. Tell him that you are not one of the women who want to be excess baggage to their husbands and that if he wants to be free you will not hang on to him, but to take a year in which to try out being on his own and see whether he likes liberty as well as he thinks he does.

Shut up the house and you and the boy go off somewhere to live by yourselves. Don't even correspond with your husband. Let him miss you and home comforts. Let him feel that he is free because nobody cares where he is, or what he is doing, or whether he is sick or well. It won't be long before he will find out that whatever else marriage does to a man, it unfits him to live alone. And he will come back gladly enough to stick his neck in the matrimonial yoke.

INFLUENCE OF ROMANTIC NOVELS

Dear Miss Dix: I have been making a study of free reading of persons in secondary schools. I find far and away the most popular are the novels that grossly exaggerate the romantic element in love and do not deal with the problems of love, courtship and marriage. Could you tell me, from your tremendous contact with young people, whether or not the reading of these very romantic works impairs their ability to face their troubles realistically? I am particularly interested in the influence of the sentimental novels on inexperienced minds, such as one encountered in the average public high schools.

If you can offer suggestions for meeting and treating this influence, I will be extremely grateful.

S. H. H.

Answer: Undoubtedly both boys and girls are tremendously influenced by what they read and, judging from the letters I receive from them, their ideals of love and marriage are mostly formed on slushy novels. These depict love as a matter of wild thrills and palpitations, and hundreds of girls write to me that they hesitate to marry the good, kind, reliable youths they have known all their lives and of whom they are very fond, because they do not thrill when they see them, or go hot and cold at the sound of their footsteps.

These same novels make youngsters expect that marriage will be a state of perpetual bliss, without any work or worry to it, and when it does not come up to the romantic preview they have been given, they get divorces.

But silly and demoralizing as are the teachings in these novels, they are nothing to compare with the influence that the movies have upon our boys and girls. Their lives are formed by the cinema. Every little girl combs her hair as her favorite star combs hers; she wears the nearest imitation of clothes she can get to that of the seductress in the latest film; and she marries, feeling that it will be perfectly right to swap husbands as often as she pleases, because that is the way they do in Hollywood.

It is all very sad and very human, but I know no way of changing the little copycats into doing a little serious thinking of their own.

Veterans' Guard Needs More Men

Here come the Veterans' at any parade this always arouses a fair share of enthusiasm, for these men are representative of the cream of our land who offered their all in the first Great War. Those who survived are now older and grayer and some show evidence of their wounds from Ypres, Passchendaele, Amiens, etc.; but their hearts are still great and many of them are in uniform again "doing their bit."

Enlistments in the local battalion of veterans, the 114th Infantry (Reserve) Veterans Guard of Canada, are ample proof that our old soldiers are men who know their duty and do it.

This local company is a mighty fine outfit fully equipped, now being trained and brought up to date in modern warfare. These are times when even an old dog must be taught new tricks.

There are a few vacancies at present in the company and any veteran who wishes to serve again is asked to apply now. Phone E 6119.

Field Ambulance Seeking Recruits

With a possible emergency at hand a call has been issued for recruits for the 13th Field Ambulance, R.C.A.M.C., Victoria's medical unit in the Reserve Army.

First aid instruction will be given to recruits by fully-qualified instructors immediately after enlistment and more than 90 per cent of the members of the unit hold their first-aid certificates.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 50 not eligible for the Active Army can join this interesting branch of the Reserve Army in whose ranks practically every walk of life is represented. One advantage of membership is that possession of a first-aid certificate after the war may lead to good positions in civil life.

Officers of the 13th Field Ambulance are local medical men with Dr. A. B. Nash in command. Other officers are Dr. W. H. Moore; Drs. G. B. Buffam, R. C. Newby, W. A. Trenholm, L. W. Cromwell and A. Herstein and V. W. Smith. Staff sergeants are G. Davies and B. Gough.

Applicants are invited to get full particulars of enlistment by telephoning E 2331.

Victoria Chapter of the R.N.A. B.C. met at the Jubilee Nurses' Home Tuesday evening at 8, with the president, Mrs. J. H. Russell, in the chair. Miss Wilkinson, Miss Knipe and Miss Kilpatrick were asked to deal with the satisfactory equipping of first aid posts of registered nurses in conjunction with Dr. R. Felton. Sister Mary Claire, Miss Colquhoun, Mrs. Bothwell and Miss Laturnus were asked to arrange a refresher course for retired and inactive nurses. It was agreed that $175 be sent to the British Nurse Relief Fund.

Cutpurses Slit Bags Once Carried by Men

During these times of war, there have been some changes in clothes. Men's trousers, for example, have lost their cuffs. Women's dresses and coats are losing some of the few pockets they have had.

I wonder whether men's suits will lose any of their pockets. Probably there will be little change in this field, since it might hurt "morale."

The suits I wear have the standard number of pockets. A pair of trousers has five pockets, a vest has four pockets and a coat has four pockets. That makes a total of 13.

In warm weather a man may leave off his vest, but at other seasons he usually needs all his pockets, except maybe one. The one I could get along without is the upper right hand pocket of the vest.

A man little knows what it means to lose a useful pocket until it happens to him. While traveling, I had a suit of clothes made in Egypt. The job was done well enough, except that the left back-pocket of the trousers was left out. That is where I always carry my cheque book. I did not discover the loss of the pocket until I had boarded the boat which took me to Ceylon.

THE WOMAN SHOWN BELOW, MARY FRITH, WAS AS BAD A THIEF AS THE MAN AT UPPER RIGHT. THE WOMAN WAS CALLED "MOLL" FOR SHORT.

There was a time when men had no pockets at all. They carried money in "bags," or purses, much as women do today. Often they tied the purses to their girdles, so as not to lose them.

Dishonest persons sometimes slit the purse with a knife or razor, and stole the money inside. Such persons were called "cutpurses."

To this day thieves of the same type may be called "cutpurses," but they are much better known as "pickpockets." A friend of mine, a professor at Yale, had an odd experience in Europe. Another traveler said to him, "A pickpocket stole my purse today."

"Where did you carry it?" asked the professor.

"In the inside pocket of my coat."

"Oh, that is a bad place! You should carry your purse in the left back-pocket of your trousers just as I do."

As the professor made that statement, he patted the pocket he described. Then his face went white. He, too, had lost his purse!

To Question Krug

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian military authorities are placing Lieut. Hans Peter Krug, an interned German air force officer, at the disposal of American authorities for the purpose of giving evidence at treason proceedings in Detroit against Max Stephan.

Krug was recaptured after escaping last April from internment in Canada and traveling for some time in the United States. Stephan is alleged to have sheltered the escaped prisoner in Detroit and helped him to get to Chicago.

Empire Loses 183,550 In Two Years of War

LONDON (CP) — The British Commonwealth armed forces suffered a total of 183,550 casualties, including natural deaths, during the first two years of war ended Sept. 2, 1941. Clement Attlee, secretary of state for Dominion affairs, told the House of Commons Wednesday. The casualties included 14,687 officers.

He said the total killed was 48,973; wounded, 46,363; prisoners, 38,458; missing, 29,156. The United Kingdom lost 144,982; the Dominions, 23,824; India and Burma, 8,591; the Colonies, 6,153.

VANCOUVER (CP)—A special civic committee will study a suggestion of Mayor Cornett that members of Vancouver's police force be given a light summer tunic so they can shed their heavy serge tunics in hot weather and save them for winter wear. The mayor told the committee that heavy serge "is already hard to get and I'm told the situation is going to get worse."

Co-operative Wartime Program

Further extension of a co-operative employee wartime program is under way by John Inglis Co. Ltd. of Toronto, according to Major James E. Hahn, D.S.O., M.C., president of the company, who also announces the appointment of B. T. Trestrail, formerly president of the Canadian Radio Corporation Limited, as general relations counsel of the Inglis Company.

This development is in line with plans which have been under consideration for some time, following the excellent relations that have resulted from the employee work already done in the plant. The workers have the advantage of snack bars, cost-of-living bonus and membership in the Employees Mutual Benefit Association, run by the employees themselves, from which they enjoy sick benefits as well as recreational activities, the athletic and social functions.

Mr. Trestrail is at present on loan from John Inglis Co. Ltd. as campaign chairman of the Canadian Employee-Chest, which has so successfully organized the employees of Toronto industries under the new "Toronto Plan." Under this scheme the employees devote 15 minutes of their pay each week to support the Red Cross and a group of other charitable organizations in war and home-front service.

School Board

School Health System Will Be Modernized

Concrete suggestions for modernization of the city school health service will be brought to the City School Board by its education committee, assisted by Trustee Dr. G. A. B. Hall at the board's next meeting, according to a resolution carried by the board Wednesday night.

If funds are available at the end of the year, health service rooms will be established in each school as one step towards a more progressive system.

A motion to that effect, presented by Trustee Mrs. A. S. Christie, chairman of the education committee, was carried by the board after it had heard a detailed report by the trustee on her inspection of the Vancouver school health system. In the course of the report Mrs. Christie pointed to numerous features superior to those in Victoria and indicated means by which the local set-up could be improved.

The board received only one tender for coal fuel at the meeting. That came from Walter Walker & Sons, Ltd. and was accepted. On the recommendation of the building and grounds committee the board approved purchase of an automatic stoker from C. J. McDowell for the Victoria High School plant, having been assured by the Vancouver Island Coals, Limited, that sufficient stoker coal would be available for school needs. Costs of the installation will be met by the City Council.

Accepting the suggestion of Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education and chairman of the provincial post-war rehabilitation council, the board instructed its own rehabilitation committee to draw up projects which could be submitted to the council as post-war work. Trustee F. G. Muller, board chairman, noted school replacement and renovation were needed here.

T. L. Christie, board secretary, and Trustee H. E. Douglas were requested to represent the city at the school officials' conference in Spokane shortly.

The 29 hand pump fire extinguishers ordered by the board last year for schools have been delivered, Trustee J. S. McMillan, building and grounds chairman reported.

A contract to paint and decorate Victoria High School on the north side, at a cost of $250, was awarded to W. H. Johnston; another to paint and decorate North Ward High School to Melior Bros., Ltd.; and others to paint Oaklands School and Oaklands annex at prices of $256 and $204, respectively, were given to Hart-Andrews, Ltd.

Closure of the last of the Dominion-provincial youth training classes at Kingston Street School, owing to insufficient enrolment, will make available three additional classrooms in that school for children housed in the district under the proposed Wartime

Hospitality Committee

With the approach of the summer season, Sunday group entertaining offers difficulties. It is not possible this year to arrange picnics using private transportation.

To overcome this hostesses, who have been issuing invitations for home hospitality to men of the forces, are now combining in groups and arranging picnics for men of the various services. Usually in groups of 20, Junior hostesses are assisting the senior hostesses in supplying refreshments and the plan is working splendidly.

There are undoubtedly many other hostesses, especially those living close to the beaches, who would like to participate in this form of hospitality, and it is suggested that they contact Miss Ellen Hart, convenor of the home hospitality group (G5425) for fuller details.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Smith, 1250 Atkins St., assisted by the ladies and young people of the Central Baptist Church, are holding parties—every Wednesday night for men in the three services. Already they have entertained 20 men from the Rocky Mountain Rangers and 20 men from the Victoria Rifles. This week they are entertaining men from the navy, and the next invitation will be sent to Australian airmen.

The Youth Victory Club has extended an invitation to 15 men from the navy to attend a special dance this evening, while next Wednesday the Daughters of Saint George will entertain 35 men from the R.A.F. at a dance.
